PRESIDENT FAVORS ADEQUATE DEFENSE FOR THE COUNTRY

In Order That We May "Command the Respect of Other Nations for Our Rights."

ADVISORY BOARD MEETS

Plans of Organization Are Considered at First Gathering; Meets Again Today.

Washington, October 6. — President Wilson at the first gathering of the new naval advisory board, announced himself today in favor of having the United States adequately prepared for defense, so as "to command the respect of other nations for our rights."

Later it became known that the President plans to make "for defense" the slogan of his advocacy of a stronger army and navy, and will outline his views more specifically before the convening of Congress.

Board at White House.

The President addressed the members of the advisory board at the White House. Previously the board had met at the Navy Department, with Chairman Thomas A. Edison presiding and listened to an address by Secretary Daniels. Later they took a trip down the Potomac river on the presidential yacht Mayflower to the Indian Head gun proving grounds. One of the sights witnessed there was the firing of the navy's most modern weapon, a 14-inch 50 calibre gun. A newly designed machine rifle was also brought into action and various feats such as changing the barrel of a gun during fire, were performed.

Wireless Interests Edison.

The Mayflower hardly had gotten under way when Mr. Edison discovered the wireless plant which held his attention for the remainder of the trip. He expressed a desire to "speak" with the powerful station at Arlington, Va. This message was sent to Captain Bullard, superintendent of the naval radio service:

"Congratulations on your big Arlington plant. I have heard the small and large sets seated in the wireless room of the Mayflower, and they are great."

In a few minutes the following reply was flashed back:

"My compliments to Mr. Edison and members of the Naval Advisory Board by this message, transmitted on the 100 kilowatt spark set."

Tonight the members of the board held their second meeting in Secretary Daniels' office. Various subjects were discussed and plans for organization were taken under advisement. Another session will be held tomorrow.

Co-Operation is Pledged.

At tonight's meeting ranking officers of the navy in individual speeches pledged the new board their co-operation and offered suggestions as to the navy's most pressing needs.

Judge Advocate General McLean suggested experiments with various unperfected methods for rendering periscopes invisible; Fear Admiral Strauss urged development of some means to lessen erosion in big guns and Rear Admiral Blue pointed out the need of more accurate instruments to enable aviators to determine their position in the air.

No satisfactory steam engine has been developed for use of the navy, though practically every existing type has been tried, Rear Admiral Taylor told the board. It has been suggested that development of such an engine might be one of the first problems to which the board would address itself.

President Wilson's Welcome.

"There is very little that I can say to you," President Wilson said, "except to give you a very cordial welcome and to express my very great pleasure in this association of laymen with the government. But I do want to say this:

"I think the whole nation is convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared and that the preparation for defense is not merely a technical matter, it is not a matter that the army and navy alone can take care of, but a matter in which we must have the co-operation of the best brains and knowledge of the country outside the official service of the government as well as inside. For my part, I feel that it is only in the spirit of a true democracy that we get together to lend such voluntary aid, the sort of aid that comes from interest, from a knowledge of the varied circumstances that are involved in handling a nation.

"I want you to feel those of you who are coming to the assistance of the professional offices of thegov ernment, that we have a very serious purpose, that we have not asked you to associate yourself with us except for a very definite and practical purpose, to get you to give us your best independent thought as to how we ought to be ready for any duty that may fall upon the nation.

The Spirit of America.

I do not have to expound it to you; I know as well as I do the spirit of America. The spirit of America is one of peace, but one of independence. It is a spirit that is profoundly concerned with peace because it can express itself best only in peace. It is the spirit of peace and good will and of human

President Woodrow Wilson Is To Wed Mrs. Norman Galt

Engagement Announced From the White House Brings Surprise to Official Washington, But Not to Intimate Friends, Who Are Pleased—Wedding Expected in December in Bride's Washington Ho

Washington, D. C., October 6.—Woodrow Wilson, the President of the United States, announced tonight his engagement to Mrs. Norman Galt, of Washington.

The date of the wedding has not been fixed, but it probably will take place in December, at the home of the bride-elect.

The brief announcement from the White House, made by Secretary Tumulty, came as a surprise to official Washington, but to a number of intimate friends it has long been expected.

Interesting Romance.

From the circle came tonight the story of friendship whose culmination was viewed as a happy turn in the troubled and lonely life of the Nation's Chief Executive.

It was Miss Margaret Wilson and her cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, who drew Mrs. Galt into the White House circle. They met her first in the early autumn of last year and were so much attracted by her that they sought her out more and more frequently, and the friendship between them rapidly ripened into an affectionate intimacy. Mrs. Galt spent a month this summer at Cornish as the house guest of the President's eldest daughter. It was through this intimacy of his daughter and cousin that the President had an opportunity to meet and know her.

One of the most interesting facts about the engagement, indeed, as told by friends, is that the President's daughters chose Mrs. Galt for their admiration and friendship before their father did.

Mrs. Galt is the widow of a well known business man of Washington, who died eight years ago, leaving a jewelry business that still bears his name. She has lived in Washington since her marriage in 1896. She is about 38 years old and was Miss Edith Bolling, born in Wytheville, Va., where her girlhood was spent, and where her father, William H. Bolling, was a prominent lawyer.

In the circle of people who have known Mrs. Galt for many years she has been regarded as of unusual beauty. She is not quite as tall as Mr. Wilson and has dark hair and dark eyes. Her tastes are said to be strikingly similar to those of the President with a deep interest in literature and charity work.

President's Friends Elated.

Friends of the President expressed their pleasure over the announcement tonight, not only because Mr. Wilson's personal happiness, but because they felt this new companionship would give him support and comfort in his home life—a vital need during the hours of strain over the Nation's problems. With the marriage of his daughters and the death of Mrs. Wilson more than a year ago, the President's life had become one of solitude. His absorption of official labors began to tell on him physically and when a few months ago he began to take a renewed interest in personal affairs his friends and members of the family welcomed the distinct change which it brought about in [illegible]ealth and spirits.

Tonight Mrs. G[illegible]s a dinner guest at the White H[illegible] At the moment when Secretary [illegible]ulty stood in the executive office [illegible]nouncing the engagement to a [illegible] number of Washingto correspo[illegible]s who had been summoned, the [illegible]ident and Mrs. Galt were spending [illegible] evening with Dr. Cary T. Grayson and Miss Bones in the White House parlors.

The news was given out in a brief statement which read:

White House Wedding Not Likely.

"The announcement was made today of the engagement of Mrs. Norman Galt, of this city, and President Woodrow Wilson."

No word as to plans for the wedding was said to be available as yet, but it generally is presumed that Mrs. Galt, who is of democratic tastes, will prefer a private wedding in her own house, instead of in the White House. Grover Cleveland was the last President to be married in the White House. Should Mr. Wilson decide to be married there, it will be the third wedding in the mansion under his administration, the first between Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Francis B. Sayre being held in the East room, and the second between Secretary McAdoo and Miss Eleanor Wilson being solemnized in the Blue room.

The announcement of the engagement was generally regarded as a forerunner of an interesting social season for Washington, with the new first lady of the land at the head of the receiving line at official receptions. The wedding, it is understood, will take place before the first of the series of state receptions and dinners is held.

Mrs. Galt was present at the first social affair participated in by the President and Miss Margaret Wilson in more than a year. It was a tea given by Miss Wilson to neighbors in the artist colony at Cornish, N. H.

Since the return of the President to Washington, he and Mrs. Galt have spent many evenings together, sometimes at the White House and often at her home. Last week she occupied a prominent seat in the President's reviewing stand at the G. A. R. parade. She was with her mother in the midst of a circle of the President's friends and wives of cabinet members.

WAS BEAUTIFUL AND POPULAR.

Mrs. Galt is Well Remembered by Distant Relatives in Roanoke.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 6. — Mrs. Norman Galt is a distant relative of W. H. Bolling, of this city, who bears the same name as Mrs. Galt's father. The local Bollings remember Mrs. Galt very well, and say that as a girl she was one of the most beautiful and popular members of Wytheville's social set. It is their recollection that she continued to make her home in Wytheville until her marriage to Mr. Galt. She was educated at a private school in Wytheville.

Her brother, Ralph Bolling, recently went to Panama on a government position.

NEW CORPORATION IS GIANT CONCERN

Midvale Steel Company Acquires Three Other Plants

BIG OPTION ON ORE

Company Capitalized at $100,000,000 and With One Exception is Largest Steel Corporation in Country. Directors Prominent.

New York, Oct. 6.—Announcement was made tonight that the Midvale Steel & Ordnance Company, a $100,000,000 corporation recently organized by William E. Corey, had, in addition to purchasing the Midvale Steel Company, acquired three other concerns and had secured an option on three hundred million tons of iron ore.

These concerns are the Worth Brothers Company, of Coatesville, Pa., manufacturers chiefly of steel plates; the Coatesville Rolling Mill Company, which is allied with the Worth Brothers, and the Remington Arms Company, of Delaware, a concern recently organized to manufacture arms and ammunition at Eddystone, Pa. The latter company, which has leased properties of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and is building another plant, is a separate organization, it is understood, from the Remington Arms & Ammunition Company, of Ilion, N. Y., but the announcement made tonight disclosed that Marcellus H. Dodge, president of the Remington Arms & Ammunition Company, is a director of the new Midvale combination.

Second Largest in Capital.

With the exception of the United States Steel Corporation, the new Midvale company becomes the largest steel concern in point of capitalization in the country and although Mr. Corey, who made the announcement of its additional acquisitions declined to discuss the future plans of the company, it was thought in steel circles today that certain other concerns probably would be taken in later.

The Midvale Steel & Ordnance Company stands as a holding company for the properties acquired, and Mr. Corey's announcement said that in order to acquire these concerns and to provide working capital $70,000,000 of its stock would be issued.

In addition to Mr. Dodge the board of directors of the company include Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank; Percy A. Rockefeller; Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank; Charles H. Sabine, president of the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York; Frederic W. Allen, representing Lee, Higginson & Company, of Boston; Ambrose Monell, president of the International Nickel Company; Samuel F. Pryor, a director of the Baldwin Locomotive Works; William P. MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH BETWEEN TWO CAR ENDS

Horrible Accident at Union Station at Newbern.

James Bright, of Pamlico County, Caught Between Couplings and Literally Mashed Flat; Hundreds Look On.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Oct. 6.—An accident that was horrible in every detail occurred at the union passenger station this morning when James Bright, of Merritt, Pamlico county, and a son of Georgia Bright, of that place, was caught between two cars and so badly crushed that death occurred a few hours later.

Two hundred or more persons were at the station at the time of the accident and many of them witnessed the bloodcurdling spectacle, but so stupefied were they that they were unable to give assistance to the victim for some little time and he remained crushed between the cars moaning for help and begging some one to pull the cars apart.

Mr. Bright, who was a young man, came up to Newbern this morning to attend the fair and had lingered around the passenger station for half an hour or more after the arrival of his train. Up near the baggage room a tank car had been shifted in order to allow other trains to come in and go out without interference. On the same track was standing the train which in a few minutes was to make the return trip to Pamlico county.

There was a distance of a few feet between the end of this train and the tank car and it was through this space that Mr. Bright attempted to pass when the accident occurred. Just as the victim neared the center of the track the yard engine shifted several cars to the Oriental train and this c[illegible] the rear end of the coach to be th[illegible] up against one end of the tank and the couplings of the cars c[illegible] Mr. Bright in the center of his [illegible] and literally mashed him flat.

ARMIES READY FOR A NEW BALKAN WAR.

Positions of Opposing Armies.

The stage is set again in the Balkans for another war, the third within five years. It is reported that Gen. von Mackensen, who was one of the leaders in the Russian defeat, is in command of a German army now near Belgrade, while the Austrians are farther west, both menacing Serbia. A Bulgarian army confront the Greeks on their boundary lines. But south the Allies are landing forces, and already Gen. Ian Hamilton, the British commander at the Dardanelles, has been to Salonikl to make arrangements for caring for many thousand troops. The Russians have some 600,000 soldiers on the Black Sea who may be marching into Bulgaria in a short time. Off the port of Varna is a large Russian squadron ready to blow the city to bits.

KING OF GREECE IN CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT; BULGARIA REJECTS RUSSIAN DEMANDS

Venizelos Virtually Dismissed From Premiership and Coalition Cabinet May be Formed—Greek and Rumanian Neutrality Likely—Reported Bulgaria Has Sent Ultimatum to Serbia for Cession of Macedonia.

London, October 6. — Even the greatest battles of the war may prove to have had less weight in deciding the future of Europe than events of the past few days in the southeastern kingdoms. King Constantine, of Greece, brother-in-law of the German Emperor, appears to hold the balance of power of the near east in his hand for the hour. The second crisis where Greece seemed on the brink of entering the war by the side of the entente powers, he has virtually dismissed the foremost Greek statesman, Eleutherios Venizelos, from the premiership, and has asserted personal control of the government.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has rejected Russia's ultimatum demanding that she break with the central powers and expel German officers who have taken charge of Bulgaria's army staff, and, at the same time, according to several correspondents, has sent an ultimatum to Serbia, allowing a time limit of 24 hours for the cession of Macedonia to Bulgaria.

To Open Way to Constantinople.

The programme of the Germanic empires apparently includes the consolidation of their field operations with their Turkish allies by sweeping clear a channel from Berlin and Vienna to Constantinople. For the accomplishment of this programme they have already secured the co-operation of Bulgaria. They need the neutriality of Greece and Rumania, and then must crush Serbia.

Today's developments tend to confirm the statements of the German press that the German Emperor has guaranteed to Bulgaria both Greek and Rumanian neutrality. Thus the crucial field of warfare has shifted from the French and Russian fronts to the Balkan peninsula, where German successes iki, but if Greek support against Bulgaria cannot be counted upon, heavy reinforcements will be needed.

Venizelos Virtually Dismissed.

While technically King Constantine accepted the resignation of M. Venizelos, his action amounted to dismissal of the premier.

The Greek chamber had approved the premier's merely formal protest against the Allies' landing on Greek soil and his declaration that Grooce was bound by treaty and vital interests to go to Serbia's aid without waiting for a declaration of war, by Bulgaria, by a majority of forty in a house of 257, of whom 13 abstained from voting.

The majority may have appeared not a large one for committing the country to war, and thus the king may have fe't justified in informing the premier that he could not pursue the cabinet's policy to the end. A coalition cabinet, without M. Venizelos, probably will be formed with either ex-Premier Rhallis or ex-Premier Zaimis at the head.

May Try to Remain Neutral.

The possibility that Greece may try to remain neutral, fearing to stake the nation's fate upon the success of either party to the great war, is recognized in England, although it is considered small. The hopes of the entente powers are that popular sentiment is with them and that the King may find it best to bow before the will of the people, as he has done before.

French officials declare that the landing of the Allied troops will take its course, and that the Greek people have given them an enthusiastic reception.

Bulgarian reports are to the effect that mobilization is being completed, rapidly; that many German officers are arriving, and that the departure from Sofia of the French, British, Russian nad Italian diplomats, except the Russian minister, who is ill, is imminent.

News from Rumania is scant. Feverish military activity on the Bulgarian frontier is reported, but there has been no general mobilization. There is nothing to indicate that the Rumanian king, who is a Hohenzollern prince, will abandon the safe path of neutrality.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 6.—It is said on good authority here that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is dangerously ill and that the Austrian crown prince has been called to Vienna. In addition to the hear to the throne, it is said that Baron von Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, also have been called to the capital.

LITTLE CHANGE IN THE SITUATION ON EITHER WAR FRONT

Big Force of Austro-Germans Proceeding Towards Serbia, Say Reports.

BY WAY OF HUNGARY

Russians Making Efforts to Assume Initiative; Check Drive on Dvinsk.

London, Oct. 6.—There is little change in the military situation on any of the various war fronts. Unconfirmed reports are that an Austro-German force, variously estimated at from 100,000 men, with 2,000 guns, is proceeding through southern Hungary to attack Serbia. Military observers here, however, assert that it is probable that the force does not exceed 250,000, declaring that there is no evidence of any very heavy withdrawals of Teutonic troops from the Russian front and that the western front every day is demanding new drafts.

The observers say the Germans are now in a position to withdraw many troops from the Russian side as Emperor Nicholas' armies are making a desperate effort to assume the initiative. On some sectors Petrograd reports that the Russians already have succeeded in doing this. Besides, it is asserted, they have held up Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's drive against Dvinsk for several weeks and inflicted very serious losses on him. Von Hindenburg is reported to be receiving reinforcements with a view to making another attempt to force his way through the outer defenses of the city.

For Continuing Offensive.

In the west big guns seemingly are preparing a way for a continuation of the Allies' offensive which the Germans doubtless will try to forestall by an attack from their side. In Champagne the French have captured the village of Tahure and the summit of the hill of Tahure, which is situated at a point in the German second line of defense.

The Italians record another advance toward Roverto, which has so many times been reportedas evacuated by the Austrians.

The heavy losses sustained by the British and French in their attempts to penertate the German lines in France and the large number of men required for the operations along the

ROAD AUTHORITIES HELD RESPONSIBLE

For Damages Resulting From Dereliction of Duty.

Important Case From Lee County Decided by Supreme Court, Which Delivered Opinions in Eleven Appeals Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6.—The most important case in a list of eleven opinions delivered by the Supreme Court this afternoon was that of Lester B. Hipp and L. H. Hipp vs. Highway Commissioners and Superintendent of Roads in Lee county. The suit was for damages against these officials personally for failure to keep in proper repair the wooden approaches to Lockville bridge spanning Deep river on the Raleigh-Fayetteville road.

Judge Bond, in the hearing below, refused to dismiss the demurrer of the defendants, who allege the lack of community interest among the defendants in the cause of action, and insufficiency of facts. The defendants appealed and the Supreme Court sustained Judge Bond's action.

Judge Hoke, writing the opinion for the court, insists that the duty of the defendants to repair such public highways is satisfactorily averred and that the defendants are properly required to answer if redeliction of duty be shown.

The opinions delivered this afternoon follow:

Wilkins, Ricks & Co., vs. McPhail, Lee county, no error; In re Craven Will, Chatham, no error; Hipp vs. Ferrall, Lee, affirmed in both cases; Perry vs. Kime, Chatham, new trial; Halford vs. Senter, Harnett, reversed; Harrison vs. Dill and Fisher, Craven, affirmed; Harrow vs. Insurance Company, Craven, no error; Barfield vs. Carr, Greene, no error; Moore and Supervisors vs. Commissioners, Pitt, reversed; Ramsey vs. Norfolk Southern Railroad Company, Craven, percuriam, affirmed.

APPEAL FOR RECRUITS TO THE BRITISH ARMY

Issued by Authorized Committees of Trades Unions.

Manifesto Declares Thirty Thousand Recruits Weekly Must be Raised to Maintain Efficiency of the British Armies.

London, Oct. 6.—An appeal for recruits for the British army was issued today by the authorized representatives of the three national committees of trades unions, the parliamentary committee, the general federation of trades unions committee and the executive committee of the labor party. The manifesto declares that tens of thousands of men of military age and fitness have not yet joined the colors. Stating that equipment and supplies of munitions for these men are ready, the manifesto urges that they assume immediately their share of the burden.

"Thirty thousand recruits weekly," the appeal declares, "must be raised to maintain the efficiency of our armies and secure such a victory as will free the old world from the fear of that military tyranny which Germany would impose upon it."

The manifesto, which is addressed by the joint labor board to its "fellow countrymen," points out that at no time in the history of the nation has it been faced with a crisis of such gravity as now exists.

"Aggression, carefully planned," it continues, "has after 14 months of war brought German forces into Belgium, France, Poland, Turkey and the Balkan states. We are convinced that Germany is prepared to involve every country in the conflict in order to attain her ends."

The appeal concludes: "We know

HISTORIC ST. LEGER HANDICAP TO BE RUN TODAY; MANY ENTRIES

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 6.—Thirty-two nominations have been made for the historic St. Leger handicap to be run at Churchill Downs tomorrow. The race first was run on this course in the spring of 1875. It is for three-year-olds and upward at two miles and a quarter and is worth approximately $5,000. Hodge, W. J. Weber's 4-year-old Ivan, The Terrible—Nannie Hodge gelding, which carried 125 pounds to victory a week ago in the Louisville cup, will have up top weight in the St. Leger, 128 pounds. He concedes all the other possible starters from 19 to 30 pounds.

RED SOX MUST WIN THE SERIES, SAYS CARRIGAN

Has Not Yet Announced Pitcher of Opening Game.

Has So Much Confidence in All His Pitchers That He Wouldn't Be Afraid to Pick Any One of Them.

New York, Oct. 6.—A workout on Friday morning preceding the first game of the world's baseball championship will be the only opportunity the Boston Americans will have for practice on the field of the Philadelphia Nationals. Owing to the postponement of yesterday's game between the New York and Boston American League clubs it will be necessary for the Red Sox and the Yankees to play tomorrow in order to complete their schedule.

William Carrigan, manager of the Boston club, had not disclosed today the name of the pitcher who will oppose Philadelphia in the opening game and there was a great deal of speculation on that point. Manager Carrigan was quoted as saying that anything except straight baseball was usually barred in a world's series, as the two clubs would meet for the first time.

"I realize that we must face Grover Cleveland Alexander in the opening game Friday," said Carrigan, "and I also know just how wonderfully clever is the curve ball genius of the National League. It seems we must beat Alexander in that first game and we have devised a means which we think will accomplish it. Should we beat Alexander in the opening game the rest will be a lot easier than I have figured. If we fail it will give us a line on Alexander which will make his second game doubly hard to win. Outside of Alexander I do not think any of the Philly pitchers compare with my men."

Carrigan added that he had so much confidence in every one of his pitchers that he would not be afraid to pick any one of them to pitch and that he considered the rest of his club the peers of any other ball player. "I have implicit confidence in them," he said. "From that you can see that from my standpoint there can be only one result, the Red Sox must win, may be not in four straight games but surely before seven."

CHICAGO AMERICANS DEFEAT CUBS FOR THE CHICAGO TITLE.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The American League club drew first blood over their National League rivals for the championship of Chicago today by winning the first game 9 to 5.

Vaughn pitched a great game for six innings, striking out eight of his opponents, but he weakened in the seventh and lost the game. In that inning he was touched for five hits, one of which was a triple by Eddie Collins and netted the Americans four runs and the game.

COMMISSION CONSIDERING REQUEST OF FEDERAL LEAGUE

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago club of the Federal League, today received a reply to his telegram challenging the winners of the American and National League pennants for a series to settle the world's championship title in major league baseball. August Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, in replying to the challenge, said he had sent a copy of it to his colleagues "for their information and consideration."

PHILLIES ARE IN GOOD SHAPE FOR THE SERIES

Get Good Practice in Two Games With Brooklyn.

Members of Club Confident of Winning, While Betting Odds in Boston's Favor are Shortening—Whitted Back in Game.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The Philadelphia Nationals, new champions of their league, had some good practice today in preparation for the world's series games which begin here Friday. They wound up the regular playing season by defeating Brooklyn twice while a small but critical crowd looked on. The playing field was very heavy. The champions consequently did not extend themselves.

The team got good batting practice against left-handers in the first game, and hit both Marquard and Mails hard. Cravath put his 24th home run of the season over the right field wall with two men on bases. There was some curiosity to see if the slugger would equal the major league record of 25 home runs made by Buck Freeman in the American League years ago, but Cravath did not play in the second game.

Alexander, who is expected to carry the pitching burden of the Phillies, worked only one inning today, the ninth of the first game. He merely went in to warm up and made no effort to extend himself. He is in as good condition as he has been any time this year. He has done comparatively little twirling in the last two weeks, Manager Pat Moran preferring that the Nebraskan conserve his strength for the heavy work to come. Pitcher Mayer, who with Chalmers is expected to help Alexander bring the world's title to Philadelphia, relieved Demaree who started the game. Mayer also took things easy, but held Brooklyn in check. Incidentally Demaree, who was to be given $500 bonus if he won 15 games, failed to get the prize by a narrow margin. He needed only one game to win, but Brooklyn batted him hard and he was taken out.

With the regular schedule out of the way, Manager Moran will devote tomorrow and Friday morning to keeping his men in condition. He will have all the players on the field both morning and afternoon tomorrow for light work. The fact that Whitted played in both games today was encouraging to the fans. Whitted injured his side in the final drive for the pennant and it was believed for a time that he had either broken or dislocated a rib. The club physician took him in hand with the result that he is in good shape for the series. Niehoff, whose legs were none too good, is also reported ready.

The one great mystery that apparently remains to be cleared away is the condition of Bill Killifer's arm. The big catcher's throwing arm "went dead" several weeks ago, and while he has since appeared in uniform he has not attempted to catch in any of the regular games. Killifer says his arm is "coming around all right." Burns, who has been doing most of the catching in Killifer's absence, is again in trim.

All the Philadelphia players are confident of winning the world's title. They realize that the Boston Red Sox collectively are a great team of players. The Phillies believe they have seen as good pitching in the National League as the American Leaguers can serve up to them in the coming series. Alexander will pitch the first game and with him in good form, they do not see how he can lose.

What little betting there has been on the series so far shows that the odds that have prevailed in Boston's favor are gradually shortening. Some betters now want even money.

The weather man is still trying to put a damper on the opening of the series. He predicts cloudy skies and possibly rain for Friday.

The first distribution of tickets for the series will begin tomorrow morning. The management of the Philadelphia club announced tonight that cards had been mailed to lucky applicants to call at the offices of the club for their allotment.

SECOND GAME FOR CITY TITLE AT ST. LOUIS A TIE.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—The second game of the city series, a see-saw affair, was called on account of darkness in the 12th inning, just after the Americans had tied the score for the third time today. The score was 3 to 3.

THE WINTER OF GREAT DISTRESS

Damp and cold weather is destined to cause much suffering among Rheumatics. Guard Against it.

Get ready for winter by realizing that Rheumatism is a blood disease and must be relieved through the blood. Throw away the liniments and lotions, cut out the pain killers and stake your chances of relief on S. S. S. Some of the most renowned physicians that the world has ever known have been studying Rheumatism for fifty years in the laboratories of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta, and if Rheumatism can be permanently relieved—and WE KNOW THAT IT CAN—they will tell you what to do for your trouble.

Rubbing with liniments, blistering, the application of plasters; in fact, anything that will produce counter-irritation, is good for external treatment of Rheumatism, but these simple remedies do not reach the seat of the disease nor touch the real cause, and relief is therefore only temporary.

Rheumatism is due to Uric Acid and other irritant poisons in the blood, and as it circulates through the system, these acid poisons are deposited in the muscles, joints and nerves, and exposure to the night air, cold east winds, or any sudden change in the weather, will bring on an attack which may last for a few days or linger for months. Every battle with Rheumatism leaves the blood in poorer condition, while the corroding acids are gradually consuming the oils and fluids that lubricate the muscles and joints, thus they become stiff, sometimes absolutely rigid.

Rheumatism with its sharp cutting pains canont be conquered until the acid blood is cleansed, purified, literally washed free of the poisoned substances which it contains, and nothing affords such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. The tonic effects of this vegetable remedy are wonderful. The blood is cleansed, purified and its early strength and vigor renewed, causing the health to rapidly improve and builds up the entire system. The sufferer is not only free from Rheumatic pains, but experiences once more the thrill and exquisite pleasure of perfect health.

Get rid of Rheumatism before cold weather makes it worse. Don't take substitutes for S. S. S. Write our Medical Department at once; they want to advise you how to relieve Rheumatism quickly, thoroughly and make you well. S. S. S. sold at all drug stores. Don't accept substitutes—they are dangerous. Write the Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 16, Atlanta, Ga.

RALEIGH SHOCKED BY C. C. M'DONALD'S DEATH

General Depression Had Affected His Business

Funeral Today—Mt. Airy Parties Want to Know if "Blue Sky Law" Has to Do With Wireless—Encampment at Morehead.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6.—The people of Raleigh were shocked and grieved beyond measure this morning by the suicide of C. C. McDonald, prominent stock and bond dealer of this city. His lifeless body was found soon after midnight in a summer house in a remote section of the grounds of the Raleigh Country Club.

Mr. McDonald left his office in the Tucker building soon after noon, went home to dinner and spent the afternoon at the Country Club. His failure to return home for supper caused uneasiness on the part of Mrs. McDonald and others of the family, and as the night advanced Mr. McDonald's son, John McDonald, went to the club house, accompanied by Dr. Hubert Haywood, and it was their search that brought the discovery of the body.

It appears that Mr. McDonald took off his coat, folded it carefully, and then fired a bullet through his heart, death seeming to have resulted without a struggle. A 22-calibre revolver was used and there was also an open pocket knife beside the body. The latter had evidently been intended to be used in the event the pistol shot was not effective.

Late in the night, before the body was found or the fact of suicide suspected, Mrs. McDonald found in a drawer of Mr. McDonald's chiffonier a sum of money and other valuables that were carefully bundled and addressed: "To my wife."

Mr. McDonald's friends had realized for many months that his health was rapidly failing. Along with this came the business depression which effected his stock and bond business doubtless more seriously than any other industry. However, he had manifested no special depression and talked hopefully of the business outlook.

Mr. McDonald had lived in Raleigh for more than 50 years, being a native of Chatham county. He was several times an alderman of the city; was in 1898 one of an official delegation to present a silver service to the cruiser Raleigh. Again he was chairman of a Raleigh committee sent to New York to welcome the cruiser Raleigh upon her return from participance in Admiral Dewey's brilliant battle in Manila Bay.

Mr. McDonald leaves his wife, who was Miss Lula Troy, daughter of Rev. W. C. Troy, of Fayetteville. Also, there are five sons and two daughters surviving him. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon.

Wireless Station at Mt. Airy.

An inquiry came today to the State Department of Insurance from Mount Airy as to whether the department has the supervision or control of wireless stations in North Carolina. This was occasioned by recent publication of steps by the department to enforce the North Carolina "Blue Sky Law." The Mount Airy parties had evidently inferred that this "Blue Sky Law" carried the control of the blue skies "in this neck of the woods." A letter from the department explained to the Mount Airy parties that it has to do only with licensing the sale of stocks of non-resident corporations of certain classes in North Carolina for the protection of investors. A wireless station is being set up at Mount Airy.

Special Order No. 216 was issued today by Adjutant General Laurence W. Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, setting out the details for the Naval Reserves encampment at Morehead October 11, to continue six days. The order specifies that the purpose is field instruction and rifle practice, with special attention to the target shooting, marksmanship and sharp-shooting.

The falling of a window and consequent smashing of the glass at the laboratory of the State Department of Agriculture last night gave rise to a sensational story of burglary in search for platinum. Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State Chemist, says there was not the slightest foundation for a burglary story and that while the department does use some platinum in its work, the supply is kept secure in a big safe.

EASTERN BAPTIST ASSOCIATION IN ANNUAL SESSION THIS WEEK

Meeting Being Held at Johnson Church, Near Lanefield, in Duplin.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 6.—The Eastern Baptist Association met in its 72nd annual session at Johnson church, near Lanefield, on Tuesday. The association comprises about 40 churches, most of which sent delegates whom the people of the neighborhood are delightfully entertaining, this church and community being justly noted for its cordial and bountiful hospitality.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. P. H. Cashwell, of Beulaville, who handled his subject, "Bearing Fruit for the Lord," in an able manner.

Immediately following this was the election of officers, and the appointment of committees. All the old officers were re-elected. These are: C. E. Daniel, moderator; clerk, A. R. Herring; treasurer, J. L. Carlton.

The session adjourned for an hour at noon, and all present partook of a delicious and bountiful repast served on the Lanefield school grounds, adjoining the church.

Among those present from a distance are: Messrs: Leo Middleton, State Sunday school secretary, of Raleigh; Archibald Johnson, of the Thomasville Orphanage; Revs. T. J. Hood, of Goldsboro, and R. H. Herring, of Mount Olive.

The association will continue in session three days, Wednesday being considered the "big day" of the week. A large number from Warsaw attend each day.

Rev. A. O. Moore, Rev. George Mathis, Mesdames S. A. Johnson, J. T. Grasham, J. C. Russ,, C. Brown, O. P. Middleton, S. R. Flowers, J. H. Pierce, D. E. Best, C. F. THEATRICAL

No less than four offers were made to Manager H. H. Frazee for the English rights to "A Pair of Sixes," during the first week of its run at the Longacre Theatre, New York. He declined them all, as he wished to make the production in London himself. It was already arranged to produce it last year, when the war interfered. Arrangements for its production had already been made in Paris, Berlin and the other European capitals, and Australia, but they, necessarily, have been postponed for the present. There is no doubt, however, that in due course of time, the farce that has made the theatre-goers of this country hold their sides with laughter, will make its laugh heard around the world. It will be seen at the Academy, matinee and night, on next Saturday. Matinee prices will be from 50 cents to $1; children 25 cents to any seat. Night prices will range from 50 cents to $1.50. Seats will go on sale today at Plummer's.

"It Pays to Advertise."

It is generally conceded that Roi Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett's face, "It Pays to Advertise," which comes to the Academy of Music for one performance Thursday night, October 14th, is one of the best comedies seen in many seasons.

"It Pays to Advertise," presents the very essence of American spirit, American humor and American character. If you saw the piece translated into French, German or any other language there would be no mistaking its origin and certainly no more side-splitting farce has been concocted here.

As a matter of fact, "It Pays to Advertise" is one of those plays that provokes real breath-bereaving mirth, the sort that makes you throw your head back until it rests on the back of your chair and laugh to your heart's content.

Yes! There is no doubt about it—"It Pays to Advertise" is a rarely amusing, well-written and well acted play and like all the best pieces of its kind it is founded on an original idea, which we will not here disclose for fear of spoiling the enjoyment of prospective patrons. Prices will range from 50 cents to $1.50. Tickets will go on sale Tuesday at Plummer's.

Good Show at the Grand.

As an added feature tonight, Professor Johnson will render a classic musical programme on the famous Wurlitzer, the instrument with the human voice.

"A Difference of Opinion" is the feature on at the Grand today. It is a big two-reeler from the pen of Roy Norton, the well known humorist, all about a sick baby in the mining camp. The christening was a grand affair. "Bill" received the freedom of the camp, and was voted a full partnership in its activities, and then the trouble began. The story is very interesting and the cast includes Joseph McDermott, Mary Malatesta, William Ehfe, Frank Bates, Jack Drumeir and Herbert Barrington.

If you like excitement, don't miss the "Nerves of Steel," the newest episode of Kalem's Hazards of Helen railroad series. Photoplay patrons who see this startling railroad drama will readily agree that the heroine of the series possesses just the kind of nerves described by the title. One of the startling feats performed by this young lady consists of hanging from the boom hook of a wrecking derrick swung over a parallel track. This is the most exciting episode of the Kalem series. You will think so when you see it.

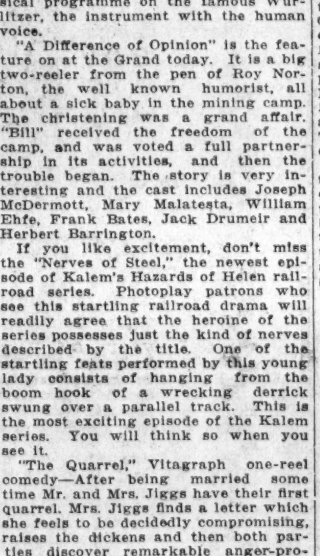
"The Quarrel," Vitagraph one-reel comedy—After being married some time Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs have their first quarrel. Mrs. Jiggs finds a letter which she feels to be decidedly compromising, raises the dickens and then both parties discover remarkable anger-provoking possibilities in each other. Don't miss it, it's a scream. Admission only five cents.

Tomorrow the Lubin company will present a three-reel masterpiece, "The Phantom," featuring Earle Metcalfe, Ormi Hawley and Rosetta Brice.

"Human Hearts" Tonight.

Tonight the Victoria theatre will offer "Human Hearts." The play will be given at 10, 20 and 30 cents, which will mark the first time ever offered in this city at those small charges. "Human Hearts" is not a new play; however, it is a most welcome one whenever and wherever offered.

A special feature of the performance tonight will be the appearance on the stage of little Miss Jennie Fay, a mere slip of a girl who is just 10 years old. Miss Jennie, however, is a very graceful actress and knows just how to act on the stage. Another young performer will be the appearance again of Master Germond, who was seen in the "Shepherd of the Hills."



Scene From "Human Hearts," at Victoria Tonight.

"Human Hearts" will be a delight to the children, and the little boy and girl who will be seen in the cast will be sure to please both the children and grown-ups.

The plot deals with every-day folks, those old lovable characters, the blacksmith, the kind-hearted village folks, the tramp who has been turned out, but who has a kind feeling towards all mankind, the villain who has been the cause of the tramp's downfall—are all shown in their true light.

"Human Hearts" will be the offering for tonight and for Friday night and Saturday, matinee and night.

Cleo Madison—Bijou Today.

And today again the Bijou welcomes back an old favorite, being no less an important one than beautiful Cleo Madison, who, after an absence of some time, presents one of the very greatest dramatic two-reel features of her entire career, entitled, "The Pine's Revenge."

"The Pine's Revenge" is a red-blooded two-reel drama, a story of the Northwestern woods, relating the story of a giant tree's retaliation upon a renegade forest incendiary who set it afire. It is one of the strangest, withal, one of the most interesting stories that has ever been filmed, departing entirely from the general run of dramatic productions. Woven throughout the story is a beautiful love story and romance of surpassing interest, the whole produced by Joseph DeGrassee, veteran Universal director.

Seen in this notable cast with Miss Madison are Arthur Shirley, as leading man; Lon Chaney, and Millard K. Wilson, making it one of the biggest all-star offerings of the week.

The 31st episode of "The Romance of Elaine" is replete with thrills throughout. Just five more chapters after this week, and the entire story will be over, so you may rest assured that every flash will be interesting from now on.

A great Joker comedy feature, "He Couldn't Fool His Mother-in-Law" features Max Asher and Jane Gale, and there's a great Nestor, "Molly's Malady" with pretty Billie Rhodes and Neal Burns. Six great reels again today. And an all-star line-up in each of the half dozen reels! Going some!

At the Royal Today.

Though it is only necessary to state that Marguerite Clark, whose list of amazing screen triumphs continues to grow, is to appear in a new production on the Paramount programme at the Royal today to crowd that beautiful photoplay theatre to capacity, it will undoubtedly be of added interest to explain that this magnetic star's latest appearance on the screen is further distinguished by the fact that the subject selected for her current engagement is one of the most novel and unusual romances ever presented to the motion picture public.

This five-act subject on the Paramount Programme is entitled "Helene of the North," and tells in a graphic and original manner of the vicissitudes in the life of a young and captivating girl, the daughter of a titled English woman, who through a misguided fancy weds a notorious character of the Northwest Canadian woods. Growing to womanhood in this rough environment she becomes desired by Pierre, a rascally half-breed for whom she feels a natural and intense repugnance. Later she falls in love with Ralph Connell, a young member of the Northwest Mounted Police, who is anxious to arrest Pierre for misdeeds. The enmity between the men is increased by their love of Helene.

This is simply a forecast of what to expect with dainty, bewitching and captivating Marguerite Clark playing the title role. It's actually one of the best of her many great successes, and those who wish to see it will do well to come early, for large crowds are assured by the mere mention of Marguerite Clark.

CIRCUS HOTELS.

Owner of Hagenbeck-Wallace Show First to Carry Commissary.

The "cook tent" is one of the marvels of the modern circus. It was the custom for many years for the management to send its employes to the local "city" hotels for their food. The undertaking for providing the meals for the army on the grounds was so stupendous that the best regulated shows hesitated to take the task. Finally the objections to the old method made the accomplishment necessary. As the circus grew in size the combined efforts of hotels and restaurants were unable to meet the demands thrust upon them.

B. E. Wallace was the first man to carry a complete commissary department with his aggregation, and later other shows followed in pursuit. Advance men now see that all needs of the commissary department are supplied, meat, vegetables and other requirements await the hands of a dozen chefs. There are two separate and distinct culinary departments with the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, which comes to Wilmington Monday, October 18, for performances at 2 and 8 P. M. One is occupied by the workingmen, whose stomachs are not satisfied until the tents are raised and all the paraphernalia is on the lot. This is a wise idea, which insures prompt and hasty work.

Under a nearby canvas are fed the executive staff, performers, men, women and children of the circus. There are neat tables, table clothes and china dishes. There is a bill of fare, and one may find anything that is supplied in the dining room of the best metropolitan hotel. The food is cooked in the open and it has its own peculiar appetizing flavor. It is served in abundance, and a happier, heartier body never did more justice to a meal. Skillful waiters, neatly attired in white, do prompt attendance. As the "cook tents" are the first to be raised in the morning, they are necessarily the first to be packed away on the "Flying Squadron" at night that breakfast may be served at 7 o'clock the following day in a town probably a hundred miles away in another state.

SHERIFF EDWARDS OF WAYNE HAS TENDERED RESIGNATION.

Says Commissioners Discriminate in Refusing to Pay Bond Premium.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 6.—A big surprise was sprung here today when the news spread over the city that Sheriff R. H. Edwards, of Wayne county, had tendered his resignation to the board of county commissioners. In an interview this afternoon Sheriff Edwards confirmed the report and stated that the commissioners had had his resignation for several days, which he had tendered them when they refused to pay the premium on his bond, which he says they had promised to do.

From authentic information gathered, the commissioners have not as yet accepted the resignation or made any statement in regard to what action would be taken. Sheriff Edwards states that unless the premium, which is some over $500, is paid, he will vacate the office in a few days, and under no other circumstances would he continue to retain it.

"As the commissioners promised to do, with the exception of myself," stated the sheriff, "they have paid the premiums on the bonds of the other county officials, and I feel as though I have been discriminated against, when they refuse to do the same for me."

SANFORD TO SWANSBORO.

Work on Railroad East and West from Benson Begins This Month.

Sanford, N. C., Oct. 6.—It is officially announced that work will commence this month in actual construction of the Atlantic & Western Railroad from Benson, both east and west. For a time difficulty had been encountered in getting rights-of-way through Benson, but that is finished, and it is the intention at once to start out in both directions. Surveys are about completed, and ties and iron are being purchased for the road. At first it was intended to build the eastern loop and then connect Lillington and Benson, but now it is decided to build from Benson to Lillington at the same time the eastern extension is under way. This will allow a through run from Sanford to Mount Olive probably by the latter part of next fall.

From Mt. Olive the Enterprise Lumber Railroad will be rebuilt to form a link toward the coast, and that means the route will be within a few miles of tidewater at Jacksonville. It will go to Swansboro ultimately. Lee county is much elated over the beginning of the work, as it gives a new outlet to the east and to the coast and puts Sanford in touch with a large new country tributary.

WANT A COUNTY HOSPITAL

Physicians and 250 Citizens of Lenoir Ask Commissioners to Act.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 6.—Physicians yesterday presented to the Board of Commissioners of Lenoir county a petition, bearing 250 names, for a county hospital. Dr. H. O. Hyatt was given credit for the movement by the doctors. His plan for county hospitals has earned him international renown, and has been adopted in many counties, especially in the Middle West. The enabling act makes it mandatory upon the commissioners to call an election upon the presentation of the proper petition. The election, to be called in a few days, will be for $50,000 in 20-year bonds. The institution will be a hospital and dispensary where those who are able to pay be treated at a reasonable expense if they care to use the privilege, and the indigent may have the care of competent physicians, surgeons and nurses at the public expense. The hospital Dr. Hyatt advocates would also be a community health center.

POLICEMAN GIVEN ROAD SENTENCE

For Pummeling Drunken Man Over Head—Wilson Tobacco Market.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 6.—Yesterday and Monday were tremendous ones on the Wilson tobacco market. About 700,000 pounds were sold these two days. The large amount of the weed coming in is taxing the capacity of the warehouses. The great rush caused a "block" Monday.

Policeman Cooper was given three months on the roads by Judge Rountree yesterday morning for assaulting Howard Barnes. One night in June the policeman arrested Barnes for being drunk and pummeled him on the head three or four times with his billie. The jury found that excessive force was used and Judge Rountree severely reprimanded him for his conduct. He declared that a drunken man can be arrested without such a violent assault.

BREAD MUST BE WRAPPED

Each Loaf Must Have Its Own Wrapper in Rocky Mount.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 6.—"Wrap each loaf of bread separately, and you must see that it's handled that way, or you will pay for it in this court," was the warning sounded to the local bakers and grocers in the city court this morning. The recorder took this occasion to warn all who handle bread and bread products in Rocky Mount that they must be wrapped so as to avoid filth and contamination, when a local baking firm and a prominent grocer appeared as defendants in violation of the ordinance of the city. Small fines were collected for their first violation of the law, but it was made plain that local venders must have the loaf wrapped.

HOOD HOLDS ON TO HOPE.

Will Probably Appeal for Reconsideration of Neuse Project.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 6.—Although disappointed over the failure of his pet scheme for the development of the Neuse river from Newbern to Goldsboro, Congressman George E. Hood, of the Third district, stated in an interview yesterday that he has not given up hope. He may call an immediate conference of the business men of Kinston and Goldsboro and the other towns along the river to name a delegation to go to Washington and ask the board of engineers to reconsider the merits of the project.

STOCK LAW WINS IN WARSAW.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 6.—At an election held here yesterday to determine whether there should, or should not be stock law, the vote was 165 for, and 28 against stock law, for Warsaw township. The election was very quiet, and only a light vote cast.

"FIRE PREFENTION DAY" TO BE OBSERVED EVEN AT KINSTON

Town With Probably Lowest Fire Loss Per Capita in the Country.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 6.—Although Kinston has the smallest fire loss per capita in the country probably, the total loss above insurance in the last fiscal year having been less than $50 and the whole including that of property insured not much more than that, the local authorities will not stop at observing the State Fire Prevention day as ordered in the Governor's proclamation. Fire Chief Tom Moseley last night issued a small-sized proclamation of his own, calling for two fire prevention days. The whole public is called upon to observe Friday as well as Saturday, the latter the date for the State-wide observance, and the fire department and school children in particular will observe the former. At one alarm the school buildings will be emptied of children and the firemen will try to make a record in getting to the scene of an imaginary blaze. The firemen will have the right of way and will hustle around just as if the occasion warranted it. Squads from the fire department will inspect every building and back lot in the city on Saturday.

THE UNBRIDGED CHASM.

That Between the Producer and the Consumer of Foodstuffs.

(Greensboro News.)

Two ancient interrogatories were touched upon by Mr. Sternberger in his excellent talk at the chamber of commerce dinner Tuesday evening, viz:

Why is it that the retail prices of foods, especially certain delectables, as fruits and melons, are at various times prohibitive, when at the same times the prices to the producer are so low as to discourage production, or even insufficient to pay the cost of gathering?

Why do not the people of a town, like Greensboro, establish a market place, conveniently located and properly equipped, where the consumer and the neighboring producer may deal directly, thus fixing the price on the simple basis of demand and supply?

It is all one problem; but we think we perceive, in common with many others who have thought about it, two distinct phases as suggested above. The considerations of time and distance enter into the general problem of the production and distribution of perishable foods. The man who invented cold storage thought he had eliminated the time factor, but he really introduced another fundamental element in the general problem. Ten thousand successive inventions, from the first wheeled vehicle, the first crude boat, have apparently operated toward the solution of the factor of distance; but inasmuch as prices are still often ruinous to both producer and consumer, it may be said that nothing substantial has been done toward the elimination of this factor.

We confess to no more than an academic interest in the general problem. Before it both inventive science and political economy stand baffled, in our time and environment, at any rate; consequently the politicians have taken it over. If the producer could always get a reasonably profitable price for his product, and the consumer could always buy it for just a little bit more than the producer got, that we suppose would be the ideal of prosperity; and every school of political thought, from the tariff standpatter to the socialist, or vice versa, promises us substantially that, in one form or another.

The other matter seems to us much simpler, and we shall not despair of its solution; especially as we hear from time to time of its being worked out satisfactorily in other places. The whole matter is local, and all its elements, phases and factors are in the hands of the neighborhood. We shall yet indulge the hope of seeing, in Greensboro, in all our North Carolina towns, a central building, or shed, or square, with every facility for cleanliness and whatever is necessary for comfort, where the neighboring producers of vegetables, fruits, poultry and the like, may meet with the people who do not produce these things, on stated days in each week, or every day, to buy and sell direct.

SERGEANT CADY RETIRED.

Ordered to Report to His Company, New York.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6.—Sergeant W. B. Cady, sergeant-instructor for infantry of the North Carolina National Guard the past three years, is ordered to report to his home station with the Third regiment, United States Army, New York. He will be succeeded by Sergeant Holman, a native of North Carolina and a graduate from the Government Training School at Fort Leavenworth. Cady's retirement is because of the statutory three years limit for such assignments to service.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection" says Dr. J. W. Ray of Blockton, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headaches, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than "Actoids," and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets.

Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists.

TOP O' THE MORNING

In the man whose childhood has known caresses there is always a fibre of memory that can be touched to gentle issues. —GEORGE ELIOT.

Sunday is glad rag day.

A song goes, "Why do we sing and sigh?" Mainly because we sing.

We's got the sinews of war and they are for loan on good security.

Well, the Wilson way is winning yet.

The western line is busy with claims and counter claims.

Of course, it may be so, but bedad if we know. It's all news anyhow.

Everything has an end. Of course circles are not counted.

Most everybody believes in "free speech" till somebody indulges in free speech that isn't popular.

In Constantinople the slogan is "Turkey for the Turks." Over here it's us for turkey on Thanksgiving day.

Grouchy Republicans had hoped all along that Thanksgiving Day could be devoted to lachrimations and lamentations.

Ribald paragraphers are forbidden to call our girls "Wilmington Wights," although some are petite blondes and brunettes as the French would say.

The drummers are working on plans to eliminate bum hotels. If they should succeed there would be no place for bums to stop.

Probably Bulgaria knew that Russia's ultimatum had to come over "long distance." Bulgaria also has an idea that Russia is busy where she is.

"Dress Up Week" is all right. We can wear our Sunday clothes for a whole week without having to explain why we are dolled up and no place to go.

A girl insists that the man she marries "must be bold and fearless." It takes that kind to make a match for some girls who are natural born usurpers of various kinds of authority.

The worst place for a man to lose caste is at home, because he has to go way off and get him some new caste among those who don't know him as he is known at home.

Complaint is made that Great Britain has seized four more American ships carrying cargoes to neutral countries. It only knows that our merchant marine had better be careful with itself and stay at home.

The doctors again assert that 1 per cent. of all healthy persons carry diphtheria germs, hence it is dangerout to kiss 1 per cent. of the men, women and children of this country. This leaves 99 out of every 100 that can be kissed with more or less impunity, unless there are other dangers to be avoided.

A town which wanted to grow reached out with good roads and just about ruined a town in a county that had a system of mudways running to its trade center. The town in the unprogressive county lost 10,000 bales of cotton receipts and business in proportion. At first it was the larger town, but now its rival is a city twice the size of the other. Trade follows good roads. We have seen it do it.

Next to to the poison fiend in the degree of his crime ought to come that of the person who adulterates food products and perpetrates food fakes. A New England concern has been marketing so-called salmon that is codfish dyed red. The health authorities of New York raided a cold storage house a few days ago and condemned 300 ponnds of fish colored with a deleterious chemical. Many adulterated foods are slow poison, and people who perpetrate such dangerous frauds ought to wear stripes for a long term

GRAVE SHORTAGE OF BEEF CATTLE

The United States Department of Agriculture a few days ago issued a report on the beef cattle supply of this country, showing a grave and continually growing deficit in meat animals of the better grade. The cattle tick in the South is blamed and the situation is such a serious one that the government will redouble its efforts to aid the Southern states in eradicating a pest that is causing a drain of millions of dollars upon the South and consequently making beef higher for us and the whole of the United States.

Southern cattle shipped to Northern stockyards tell the tale. They are under weight and quality, both as to meat and hides, and the cause is traced to the cattle tick and to a lack of grazing and feeding to bring up their size and make them fit. Beef cattle from Wyoming average 985 pounds, while those from North Carolina and other Southern states average 419 pounds in weight. The average value of Western beef cattle is $64 and of those of the South $18. The difference in favor of Western cattle is $46 per ahead, so that we see what an enormous loss our cattle raisers suffer. They have to sell more than three ordinary cattle to equal one Western steer in value. The South is feeding three cattle to get the value of one and then is taking chances on the condition of the cattle it ships to market. Average western cattle are worth from one-third to two-thirds more than North Carolina cattle. This matter is thus brought home to the South, and the Savannah Morning News discusses it from this practical standpoint:

"The cattle tick is largely to blame for this great diversity of weights and values, but back of the cattle tick stand the people of Georgia, for the cattle tick cannot exist where people are wise and progressive enough to apply the methods that very easily eradicate it. Georgia wants more and better cattle, heavier and hence more valuable cattle, and she is getting them, because county after county has been added to tick-free territory.

"As a matter of fact, the fight upon the cattle tick in Georgia has been won in so far as convincing the people of the necessity of driving out the destructive little pest is concerned, and of the fact that it is a good investment to spend money for the vats and chemicals that are used to put it out of business. It only remains now to hasten the spread of tick-free territory until it covers the state. No catte owner can fail to see that it is the best sort of investment to free cattle of ticks when a tick-free hide is worth enough more than a tick-infested hide to pay for eradicating the tick, to say nothing of the increased value of milk and meat.

"Through many generations Georgia cattle have supported innumerable ticks, feeding the farmers' dollars, in effect, to the ugly pests. It is not at all remarkable that the ordinary beef animal in Georgia now commands a price not one-third as great as is offered for the average beef animal in Wyoming. It is impossible for cattle to flourish when ticks are sucking their blood. The cattle cannot protect themselves. Their owners must protect them, and will do it if they are men who realize that putting money into ticks is one way not to put into their own pockets."

The government proposes to help Southern cattle raisers if they will put their counties in shape for the free expenditure that the government will make in eradicating the ticks. The government won't assist any county or section which lets cattle run at large to scatter the pest wherever they go. The government avoids all counties which have not adopted the stock law, but we understand that the Georgia counties have learned that and consequently are getting free government aid towards building up a great cattle industry.

The South can never raise cattle profitably till it gets rid of the cattle tick and provides grazing for cattle instead of letting them shift for themselvs on the open range. It depends on us whether we want a cattle and dairying industry or whether we are content to continue to be buyers of high priced Western beef and butter and cheese.

The difference in the size and value of Western and Southern beef cattle ought to be all the argument we need to knock us down.

COTTON CREATES A STIR.

The South does not care how excited the New York and London cotton markets get over the bullish government report of the low condition of the crop and the bullish ginners' report indicating a crop of 10,900,000 bales, if the estimates hold good to the end of the season.

Some idea of the excitement on the New York Cotton Exchange last Monday can be had from the Journal of Commerce, which says the day's session "was one of the most active and excited that has ever been witnessed since the days of the famous Sully corner." This condition, it is stated, was the result of the unexpectedly large decrease in the condition of cotton as indicated by the government report as of September 25th. The report gave a general condition of 60.8, indicating a crop of less than 11,000,000 bales (10,950,000 bales, to be exact), which compares with 16,135,000 bales actually ginned last year. The Journal of Commerce says:

"Some idea of the excitement that prevailed may be gathered from the fact that October delivery which closed at 11.70 on Saturday advanced to 12.32 yesterday; December delivery advanced from 11.98 to 12.69; January from 12.13 to 12.87; March from 12.41 to 13.15; May from 12.62 to 13.32, and July from 12.63 to 13.34. The decline in crop prospects was much greater than had been expected. There was some disposition to believe that there had been a "leak" in the report both in Liverpool and in the American markets before it was officially published. There was, too, some criticism of the fact that the statement which was scheduled for publication on Saturday had been delayed. Several years ago it was found that the report was privately circulated in advance by high officials of the Department of Agriculture for their personal gain. The exposure of the tactics unearthed a wide scandal. There recently has been no hint of a renewal of these conditions and no substantial proof accompanied yesterday's rumors. The loss in condition for the month was 8.4, compared with an average decline in conditions for the same month in the last ten years of 4.5 per cent."

The further statement is made that the bullish crop condition and ginning reports came "like a flash from a clear sky". Nobody had been looking for such reports, but really they might have been anticipated by close observers. New York has been caught napping for once. When it woke up on Monday prices made a flying leap of 70 points, and the rise in both New York and Liverpool accounts for 12 cents cotton in nearly all the markets of the South during the past two days. Big buying orders are reported on the New York exchange. Who's buying cotton now?

NEGROES HOLD BALANCE OF POWER.

The South Carolina Democracy is considerably worried over a Democratic split in Beaufort county. The Democratic factions are divided on some trivial issues and they will have to get together or see the county carried by the negro vote at the next election. The colored population greatly outnumbers the white and the colored voters hold the balance of power in all elections.

Senator Neils Christensen, of Beaufort, tells the Columbia State that the soap box primaries will have to go and legalized primaries will have to take their place if Democratic unity is to be preserved. He says the negro voters down his way always vote together and vote solidly one way or the other, so that by allying themselves with a minority faction they carry the day over the white majority. Where the whites divide about equally in general elections the other race desides the issue whether it is to the best interest of the county or not.

WHO CUT YOUR COTTON?

The complaint of Charlotte and other towns that there are no cotton graders on their markets, with lower prices prevailing probably as a consequence, reminds us that in two ports where there are some of the best graders in the country the quotations generally are an eighth to a quarter of a cent below those at other ports. It does not seem that graders have much to do with the price and that other reasons will have to be found. Probably it is a question of transportation or some other factor in the handling of cotton.

Cotton buying now is done under a different system from that which used to prevail in the interior markets. In years gone by when our first job was as a cotton sampler and finally as a grader and buyer, each cotton buyer had to look out for himself or get stuck sometimes. When cotton came to town for sale in Charlotte some years ago, Tobe Morrow, or any other "cutter" who saw it first, would slash the bale between the top ties and pull out the sample upon which bids were to be made by all the buyers in town. The seller would call on each with his sample and ask for a bid.

"Who cut your cotton?" was the first question the buyers would ask. Upon the answer depended whether or not the seller would get a bid. If the "cutter" was all right the sample would be so regarded, otherwise the buyer would take a trip to the cotton platform and examine the grade of cotton himself. It might also happen that a seller with a bale of good ordinary might try to sell it on a middling sample. However, each bale had to sell on its own grade, but it was only when several thousand bales for export were to be shipped that a fine distinction was made in the re-grading of a large lot of cotton.

Charlotte used to have some graders who knew cotton at a glance. What has become of the old-fashioned graders who used to pat the sample, strip the fibre and take time to see that he would make no mistake? At the ports he is succeeded by a grader who handles a sample nearly every second for export. Probably buyers are now merely hitting a good average and leaving the real grading to the exporters of the staple when it reaches port.

TO EMPHASIZE ROAD MAINTENANCE.

To the Editor of The Star:

The programme for the Seventh Annual Convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association is nearly complete and will be a very interesting one. The states represented in this Association are Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, and it is expected that Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland; Governor Stuart, of Virginia; Governor McCreary, of Kentucky; Governor Rye, of Tennessee; and Governor Hatfield, of West Virginia, will be present at this meeting and make short talks. Hon. John H. Small, Congressman from the First District, will represent North Carolina in the addresses from the States. There will be reports of progress of the road work of the states included in the Association by the state road engineers from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama and Kentucky. A report for Tennessee will be given by Hon. W. E. Myer, president of the Tennessee Highway Association.

At this convention emphasis will be given to the question of Road Maintenance, and the leading paper on this subject will be given by Hon. Henry G. Shirley, state road engineer of Maryland. Discussion of this topic will be led by Hon. Robert C. Terrell, commissioner of public roads of Kentucky. There will also be an illustrated lecture by Mr. M. O. Eldridge, acting director of the United States office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering. Addresses will be given by the attorney general of West Virginia, Hon. A. A. Lilly, and by Hon. M. V. Richards, industrial commissioner of the Southern Railway.

On Friday afternoon, October 15, there will be a visit to the coal mines near Bluefield and an inspection of the electrification systems of the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

"The Importance of Uniform Plans and Specifications" will be discussed by Mr. A. D. Williams, road engineer of West Virginia, and Mr. A. G. Batchelder, of the American Automobile Association, will talk on "Roads Which Make Life Worth Living."

On Saturday, the 16th, there will be reports from various road associations throughout this region.

Since the organization of this Association the road work in this general section has progressed wonderfully, and it is believed that much encouragement and enlightenment has been given to the road officials of this section by the discussions and information obtained at these conventions. It is hoped that all who are interested in the promotion of Good Roads throughout the Southern Appalachians will attend the convention and take part in its proceedings.

JOSEPH HYDE PRATT,
President.

Chapel Hill, N. C.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Major W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, is first to remind the people that North Carolina again beats the United States in the amount of cotton raised to the acre. The North Carolina cotton crop is 40 pounds above the South Carolina average and 103 above that of Texas. The Observer has often speculated on the probable increase of the cotton crop if North Carolina could send enough farmers out there to superintend the planting and growing of a single crop in that State, for Texas has every advantage over North Carolina in soil and season. It would not be a bad idea for Texas to import a squad of North Carolina cotton farmers just to see what they could do in the way of raising cotton under conditions giving them a fair chance. The Old North State farmer knows how to make the cotton seed do its best.—Charlotte Observer.

There are girls in the South—great numbers of girls—who are doing things to make their lives inspirations to all who would be workers in this world. And there are instances in North Carolina of girls of that kind. This is the way of self-help in securing an education. In this paper there was told Monday of a number of girls who are attending colleges in this State, meeting their expenses from the profits made in the summer work of canning fruits and vegetables in which they engaged. There are young women who have thus helped themselves now in attendance at Meredith College, at Peace Institute, at Littleton College, at Murfreesboro, at the State Normal and Industrial College, and other institutions. They wanted an education, and they are proceeding to help themselves to it. What a fine example they are setting. North Carolina can indeed be proud of claiming as its daughters such young women. Woman is showing herself in the passing of the years to be more and more the master of her fate. She is not sitting idly to one side waiting for things to happen, she is making them happen. And the sex is being lifted up by the example set by the young women of the North Carolina canning clubs. It is an example that is an inspiration to all who hope—and labor—for better things in this life.—Raleigh News and Observer.

We congratulate the Seaboard Air Line upon its return to reason, that road having withdrawn its ill-advised suit seeking an injunction in the Federal Court to estop the State Tax Commission from putting into effect an increased tax valuation of the Seaboard properties in this State. The Tax Commission had increased by 15 per cent the low rate given the Seaboard when it was suffering from financial troubles which placed it in the hands of receivers. That day has passed and the Seaboard business has shown such a wonderful increase that the Tax Commission was only doing the right thing when it increased the tax valuation to bring the Seaboard along into the tax value class of other railroads and taxable property generally. The Seaboard, which flew to the Federal Court to stop the increase, has now taken the position that it will withdraw its suit for an injunction. The people of the State were surprised at the act of the Seaboard, and they will be glad to know that the justice of the increase in tax valuation is admitted by that road in the withdrawal of its suit. It should never have been started, for the Seaboard had no just cause of complaint. Instead of seeking an injunction against increased rates it ought to have been passing resolutions of thanks to the Tax Comission for the leniency which had been shown it.—Raleigh News and Observer.

SOLD 674,000 SEALS

North Carolina Will More Than Double Her Sale This Year.

(State Board of Health.)

The number of Red Cross Christmas Seals sold in North Carolina last year amounted to 674,522, or the sum of $6,745.22. This amount placed North Carolina fifth in her class which embraces seventeen states. The number sold per capita was .3 or less than one stamp to every three persons. Her aim this year is to sell at least one stamp per capita or over three times as many as she sold last year, which will place her not only first in her class but in a class now held by only six other states in the Union. Three stamps per capita, however, is the required number for the honor roll.

The American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will again this year award banners or pennants for the largest sales of Christmas Seals per capita of population. One banner will be given to each of the three state groups and one each to the ten groups of counties, cities and towns, each classed according to population. Rhode Island, Minnesota and Wisconsin were the state winners last year. Of the cities and towns, Garden City, N. Y., led with the sale of 20.49 per capita.

The sales for last year amounted to over 55,000,000 seals, which, when all expenses were deducted, amounted to nearly $500,000. This sum is now being spent entirely for tuberculosis work in this country. This year the campaign is endeavoring to sell 200,000,000 seals, the proceeds of which will go for the fight against tuberculosis in the communities where the seals are sold.

LISTING OF PERSONAL PROPERTY TOO SMALL

City Council Asks Commissioners to Help Investigate.

Dr. Nesbitt Suggests How Money May Be Saved—Children Allowed to Skate on Sidewalks—Discuss Sewage Disposal.

That there is a large amount of personal property, particularly of solvent credits and money on hand in New Hanover county which has not been listed for taxes, is the opinion of the finance committee of City Council, and a resolution was adopted by Council, at its regular weekly meeting yesterday morning, asking the County Commissioners to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the former body to make an investigation.

Dr. Charles T .Nesbitt, county health officer, attended the meeting and offered a number of suggestions regarding the improvement of the water and sewerage departments. Several colored ministers appeared before council to ask that a dancing hall for negroes at Eighth and Red Cross streets be closed. Council unanimously voted to allow the children of the city to skate on the sidewalks, if they so desire, outside of a limited area in the business district. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of the sewage disposal at Carolina Heights and another committee was appointed to look into the matter of making improvements at the Front street market house.

Solvent Credits Too Low.

Councilman McCaig, chairman of the finance committee, submitted a statement from this committee and introduced a resolution on the subject of the listing of solvent credits and money on hand for taxes. Council adopted the resolution asking the County Commissioners to appoint a committee to confer with a committee from the city "fathers." The statement and resolution is as follows:

"The committee on finance, after a somewhat limited examination of the tax books, are inclined to the opinion that a large amount of personal property has not been returned for taxation for the present year. This is particularly noticeable in the items of solvent credits and money on hand. Solvent credits are listed at a total of $586,000, and money on hand is listed at an aggregate of $182,000. Of this latter amount, one corporation and two or three individuals return over $100,000. The amount listed seems at an extraordinary variance with the ten millions of dollars reported by the banks as being on deposit with them, even after making full allowance for deposits of non-residents.

"In view of the conditions, the committee begs to recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved that the County Commissioners be requested to appoint a committee to act with a committee from this council in making a careful examination of the tax returns to the county and city with a view of ascertaining to what extent there has been a failure to properly list personal property, and to recommend that steps should be taken to remedy any neglect that may be found to exist."

Councilman McCaig submitted estimates made by City Engineer Struthers in which figures were given to show that the city could make arrangements for the disposal of the sewage at Carolina Heights for a slightly smaller amount than the price asked by Burke H. Bridgers, Esq., for the present disposal plant in that suburb. The statement was also made that sewer lines laid by the city would be more desirable. The city clerk was directed to address a letter to Mr. Bridgers informing him that while council still has the matter under consideration that present conditions do not warrant the purchase of the disposal plant.

Complain of Odors.

A communication was read from a resident at Carolina Heights complaining of odors from the disposal plant there. At the request of Council, Dr. Nesbitt made a few remarks about the plant in which he declared that as early as 1911 the septic tanks in the plant had been found by Col. Ludlow, who made a sanitary survey of the city, to be too small and the plant inadequate. He was of the opinion that the plant is a nuisance and as at present maintained a violation of the State law.

He also called attention to the city sewerage disposal plant at the eastern end of Red Cross street which he said was also a nuisance. He was informed that the city has taken steps to get new pumps for this plant and City Engineer Struthers stated that the new equipment ought to arrive at an early date as it was ordered some time ago.

No Legal Machinery.

That the health department has no legal machinery for the enforcement of sanitary measures was again called to the attention of Council by Dr. Nesbitt. City Attorney Ruark stated that the city can do nothing as whatever power it may have had has been taken away and given to the Health Board. City Engineer Struthers stated that the situation could be relieved by extending the sewer line from Carolina Heights to Fourteenth and Grace streets and he thought that it could be done for about $3,500. Dr. Nesbitt thought that it would cost more than this. Members of Council called attention to a depleted treasury which must be considered. It was decided to refer the matter to a committee composed of Dr. Nesbitt, City Attorney Ruark and City Engineer Struthers.

The city engineer and city attorney were asked to find out how far Greenfield street extends. There is a question as to whether or not lots laid off in the Southern section of the city are owned by private individuals or are on the streets. There was some discussion of the disposal of night soil which is dumped at the foot of this street and Dr. Nesbitt again called attention to the need of having a pier built out into the river at the foot of this street.

Mr. E. Y. Davis, of the firm of Davis & Hintze, which has a lease on a part of the Front Street market house, appeared before Council and stated that he had made an investigation and had found that the cost of screening and painting the structure so as to make is thoroughly sanitary would be between $800 and $900. In view of the ge rent his firm is paying, they did t feel like undertaking to pay for the improvements needed, he said, d desired that the city render some sistance. The matter was referred a committee composed of Councilen Merritt, McCaig and Bunting.

DEATH OF MR. S. W. SANDERS

Well Known Wilmington Grocer Passed Away Yesterday After Long Illness—Funeral Today.

Mr. Simon Warren Sanders, a well known Wilmington grocer, passed away yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at his home, No. 411 North Third street, after an illness of several months with a complication of diseases. The funeral will be conducted from the residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. J. D. Bundy, pastor of Grace Methodist church. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Mr. Sanders was a native of Wilmington and spent all his life in this city. He was 62 years old and for more than 40 years was engaged in the grocery business. During his long business career he had operated stores in several sections of the city and for the last 11 years had been proprietor of the "Siwasa" store at 219 Market street. He always kept thoroughly abreast of the times and was the first grocer in Wilmington to introduce the practice of taking orders directly from the homes of his patrons. He was among the first in his line of business to introduce modern appliances for the sanitary handling of products sold by him.

Mr. Sanders was a member of one of the most prominent families of the city and was a direct descendant of Nathaniel Macon. He was a man of quiet demeanor and devoted the closest attention to his business. He had a great many friends who will be deeply grieved to learn of his death.

Surviving Mr. Sanders besides his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Maude Harton, of Durham, are four children, as follows: Misses Veritas Macon and Maie Sanders, S. W. Sanders, Jr., and William Patterson Sanders. Surviving also is one aunt, Miss Mary Sanders, of this city. The bereaved family will have the tender sympathy of many friends.

The deceased was a member of Grace Methodist church. He had been in failing health for several months. He spent the summer with his family at Summer Rest, Wrightsville Sound and was brought to his home in the city about ten days ago. His condition had been serious for several weeks and he became decidedly worse on Tuesday night, gradually sinking until the end came yesterday morning.

INCORRIGIBLE BOY ON FARM.

John Stanley, Colored, Persistent Thief, Sentenced for 12 Months.

For the theft of $2.75, John Stanley, a colored boy, was sentenced yesterday to 12 months on the county farm. John had proved himself incorrigible in the sight of Recorder Emple, having been found guilty before this time and paroled with friends, who were unable to control him. His persistency in stealing seemed enough in the opinion of the Recorder to justify putting him where he wouldn't be such a public nuisance for at least a year.

Recorder Emple believes in being light with the boy or man who happens to get into some little technical crime, but the professional criminal seems to have a slim chance for leniency. The only other new case yesterday was a drunk. Fitzhugh Sellars and Joe Wood, charged with storebreaking, will have another hearing Friday. Mr. K. C. Knowles, who has been indicted on a charge of trespass, as a result of a disagreement between him and the owner of a store room he had rented, will get a hearing today.

The cases against Messrs. H. T. Turrentine, J. R. Turrentine, J. R. Turrentine, Jr., J. R. Rhodes, Ben Hill, Sam Williams and D. T. Peterson, charging them with violating the tax ordinances, will have another hearing Saturday.

TO PASS ON BY-LAWS.

Shipp-Bagley Camp, Spanish War Veterans, Will Meet Tonight.

Camp Shipp-Bagley, United Spanish War Veterans, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Wilmington Light Infantry armory for the purpose of passing on the by-laws which will be submitted by a committee which was appointed at the last meeting. After their adoption by the camp, the by-laws will be sent to the National headquarters in St. Louis.

Not only are all the members of the camp urged to attend the meeting tonight but any Spanish war veterans, either of the army or the navy, are invited to come and join. It is hoped that a strong organization can be built up. There has already been a large enrollment and the camp is in good shape.

FIRST LANDING WAS GIVEN CELEBRATION

Americans of German Extraction Pay Fitting Tribute.

All Old Officers of Germania Club Re-elected—Speeches by Prominent Members—Delightful Dutch Lunch—Songs.

The entire citizenship of Wilmington Americans of German extraction last night paid a fitting tribute in commemoration of the landing of the first German colony in America in 1677, by giving a delightful Dutch lunch at the club building, corner of Front and Orange streets. A business meeting was held early in the evening at which all the officers of the Germania club were unanimously re-elected, after which the members repaired to the hall on the second floor to attend the lunch which was given under the direction of Mr. H. A. Webber. During the lunch many speeches were made by prominent speakers and patriotic songs were sung.

The officers re-elected were as follows: President, Mr. J. H. Niggel; first vice president, Mr. H. E. Bonitz; second vice president, Mr. W. J. H. Fuchs; third vice president, Mr. H. T. Duls, secretary and treasurer Mr. W. C. Cronenberg; German corresponding secretary, Mr. E. F. Grossmann.

The principal other business transacted was the hearing and considering of the report of the Red Cross work.

When the lunch was prepared, it was one of the most sumptuous ever served in this city. There were four tables extending the full length of the spacious hall, and all seats were filled and at each was a most tempting lunch. A smaller table at the head of the hall used by the president of the society, was decorated, in full view of all the diners, with the stars and stripes as an emblem of the loyalty of the members of the club to the American government.

The patriotic and witty speeches were much enjoyed. Prominent among the speakers were Rev. F. B. Clausen, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church; J. G. L. Gieschen, German imperial vice consul; Messrs. M. G. Tiencken, H. E. Bonitz, H. A. Webber, Frank Herbst and C. W. Polvogt.

There was a prevailing spirit of gaiety and everybody seemed to feel it a duty to celebrate the landing of the colony under William Penn, who were, as many others, attracted to America for religious and political freedom. The fact that they have occupied a prominent part in American National life was insignificant compared to the feeling that their forefathers acted wisely in selecting this as the country to which they should pay their allegiance.

POTASH & PERLMUTTER PLEASED

Funniest Show of the Season Verdict of the Audience.

The funniest show of the season was the verdict of those who witnessed the presentation of "Potash & Perlmutter," A. H. Woods' production builded around the two famous characters made famous in Montague Glass' short stories published in the Saturday Evening Post, at the Academy of Music last evening. While the house was not packed, the audience was by no means small, and it's a safe bet that no one in the crowd failed to enjoy every minute of the show.

"Potash & Perlmutters" offers something new in the way of comedy, a newness that is altogether refreshing. Pathos there is too, at times, blending well with the irresistible humor of the situations into which the two partners are plunged during the three acts of the show.

Charles Lipson and Nat S. Jerome as Mawruss Perlmutter and Abe Potash are life like figures to those who, through the printed page, have made the acquaintance of Glass' heroes of the cloak and garment trade, and their work could hardly be improved upon. Both were splendid, and it would be more than hard to choose between them as to superior histrionic ability.

They were supported by a cast that did not include a single weak member. Among those who deserve especial mention in addition to the principals, for whom the show is named, are Miss Violet Barney as Ruth Goldman; Josephine Robinson as Mrs. Potash; David Leonard as Doris Andrieff and Thomas J. Tempest as Feldman, the shyster lawyer.

The play is well staged, is a sure fire laugh producer and deserves all of the success that it has met heretofore.

DEATH OF MR. LEMOYNE

Much Beloved Young Man Passed Suddenly Yesterday Morning.

The sudden death of Mr. J. Mell LeMoyne, which occurred at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre C. LeMoyne, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning after several years' affliction, came as a severe shock to his wide circle of friends.

Mr. LeMoyne would have been 23 years old had he lived through this month, and spent practically all of his life in Wilmington. He was always of a sunny disposition and was popular with his many friends because of his genial personality.

He is survived by his parents and two brothers, Mr. J. S. LeMoyne, of this city, and Mr. G. P. LeMoyne, of Atlanta, Ga., all of whom have the tender sympathy of many friends.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, No. 509 Princess street, conducted by Rev. W. M. Craig, acting pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Messrs. James H. Morse, R. B. Lewis, J. H. Farrar, J. P. Hetts, O. C. Fillyaw and H. T. Lewis.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT GIVES $500 FOR STORM SUFFERERS

Consul General at New Orleans Instructed to Convey Sympathy.

New York, Oct. 6.—The French government through M. DelCasse, minister of foreign affairs, today authorized the French consul general here to deliver to the proper authorities a check for $500 to be applied toward the relief of storm sufferers in Louisiana. The cable authorizing the subscription contained the following message:

"Please convey to the people of Louisiana the sympathies of the Republic of France and assure them that it is our wish to aid them in this time of distress."

DR. SPILLMAN COMING TODAY

Begin Series of Lectures on Bible Study and Sunday School Work at First Baptist.

Rev. Dr. Spillman, field secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist Convention, with headquarters at Kinston, N. C., will arrive in the city today at noon from his home, to begin a series of lectures on Sible Study and Sunday school work. The lectures will begin this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the auditorium of the First Baptist church and will continue through Sunday, if not longer, depending on whether Dr. Spillman can be persuaded to give more time here. Members of other churches and denominations have promised to attend and assist in the meetings, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The city Sunday school superintendents, who agreed some time ago to cooperate in securing interest of the members of the various churches, report that there is much interest and attendance is expected from all church workers in the city.

Dr. Spillman was heard here last June when at the Seaside Chautauqua, and the people of the city know what to expect. They heard his wit, logic and clear-cut manner of expression, and appreciate his deep insight into Biblical questions. His field for labor is the entire South and Cuba, which territory has his deep interest and sympathy, which is expressed pleasingly in practically all of his lectures.

The First Baptist church auditorium has been selected as the logical place to hold the lectures, as it is about the most centrally located, being at the corner of Fifth avenue and Market streets.

KING-SMITH WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

A very pretty but quiet home wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. C. Smith, No. 609 Orange street, when Miss Annie Herring Smith became the bride of Mr. Edward Z. King. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, the beautiful and impressive ring service being used.

The home was attractively decorated in Southern smilax, palms and golden rod, the color scheme being yellow and white. The vows were said before an improvised altar which was lighted with candles.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. J. D. Edwards rendered on the violin "Solut D'Amour" and "Elzie" by Messenet. While the vows were being said, "Meditations" by Wilson was played with Prof. A. H. Yopp as accompanist on the piano. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

The groom entered the parlor with his best man, Mr. George Thomas Swain, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Hattie Lou Smith, as maid of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. King left on the 3:45 train for the western part of the State, where they will spend their honeymoon. WADSWORTH'S COTTON SCHEME FAILED FOR LACK OF CAPITAL.

Stillwell Says Cotton Growers Would Have Enjoyed Better Conditions.

New York, Oct. 6.—Only the lack of capital to prosecute a campaign to arouse interest among farmers of the South prevented the Cotton Growers' Co-operative Society from becoming a success, testified H. F. Stillwell, former secretary of the society, today, in the government hearing to have Philip C. Wadsworth, the society's promoter, removed to Atlanta, Ga., for trial on an indictment for using the mails to defraud.

Stillwell testified for the defense. He said he considered Wadsworth's scheme for the scientific marketing of cotton, promised betterment for cotton growers, had the promoters been able to raise sufficient funds to acquaint farmers with it.

Stillwell produced a letter which he wrote to the postoffice inspector at Atlanta in which he told of a conversation he had had with Wadsworth. In this conversation he said Wadsworth had informed him that he had strong connections with New York bankers, and that the company would be as large as the Standard Oil Company. On cross examination the witness testified he was the only one of ten original subscribers who put up $1,000 to start the enterprise. He said that when he discovered that representations made to him by Wadsworth were exaggerated he resigned as secretary and director.

The hearing will be continued.

Her Grandmother Robbed of $75,000 in Jewelry

Mrs. Preston Gibson.

One of the largest jewelry robberies in many years was that of Mrs. James McMillan, widow of the late United States senator from Michigan, at her summer home, Eagle Head, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, in Massachusetts, when valuables worth $75,000 were taken from the house. And it has become one of the most mysterious cases on which detectives have had to work. One agency was called off after considerable investigation had been made.

Mrs. Preston Gibson, granddaughter of Mrs. McMillan, was with her at the time. Mrs. McMillan kept her jewelry in a safe near her room. Mrs. McMillan saved some $6,000 worth of her jewels because she wore a $4,000 pair of earings and a $2,000 necklace to bed. Detectives said they could learn nothing about the case, but a statement was made by a company which insured the valuables that $42,000 had been paid to Mrs. McMillan.

Suggests Means of Saving.

Councilman McCaig assured Dr. Nesbitt that Council was glad to welcome him to the meeting and asked him to give any suggestions he thought would be helpful for the water and sewerage department. A letter was submitted to Council by Councilman Jones from Mr. John H. Sweeney, chief engineer at the waterworks plant, giving a number of suggestions for the improvement of the plant.

These suggestions were commented upon by Dr. Nesbitt, who stated that City Chemist Catlett has already been able to effect a saving in the buying of chemicals for purifying water amounting to between $1,000 and $2,000 a year. An appliance for the feeding of lime, costing $265, would effect a saving of $1.50 a day, he said, and the use of loss of head gauges in the filters would also result in a considerable saving. No action was taken on these suggestions but they will be acted upon by the special committee from Council which is making an investigation. The committee will have a meeting shortly at the waterworks plant when the whole matter will be gone into.

Postmaster H. McL. Green requested that the houses in the newly annexed portions of the city be numbered in accordance with the general scheme for the city and Councilman Hall was directed to have the police notify all residents to comply with the city ordinances requiring houses in the city to be numbered.

Children Can Skate.

Councilman McCaig wanted to have the sixth ward exempted from the ordinance forbidding skating on the sidewalks. Councilman Hall, in charge of the department of public safety, stated that he would be glad to have the entire city exempted. Other members of Council thought that it would be a good idea to give the children in the resident portion of the city the privilege of using the sidewalks for skating. It was decided to allow skating on all the sidewalks except the section north of Orange, west of Third and south of Red Cross, this being the main business portion of the city.

Section 219 of the city ordinance requiring all cotton oil or other oil mills to pay a large license tax was amended so as to cut out all except cotton seed oil mills.

Councilman Jones reported that Mr. J. I. Bland had given up the contract for painting the standpipe at the city waterworks plant because he considered his bid of $150 too low. He is the third man to throw up a contract for the job. The matter was left open.

Messrs. R. M. Kermon and J. W. Blake made vigorous objection to the provision of the new privilege tax ordinance requiring electrical contractors and electrical dealers to pay license taxes for each line of business. It was decided to require all electrical dealers to pay a license tax in addition to the tax for contractors. Messrs. Blake and Kermon said they would be satisfied if all supply dealers were required to pay the tax but that they did not want to pay it unless some of those now selling supplies without a license were made to pay the tax also.

Several colored ministers, who appeared in a body, after expressing appreciation of the action of Council in closing last week a dance hall at Seventh and Nun streets, requested that all colored dance halls in the city be closed but more especially one at Eighth and Red Cross streets. The matter was referred to Councilman Hall for investigation.

City Attorney Ruark recommended that the city not pay the claim for damages made by Mr. D. D. Cameron for an injury received in the southern section of the city some months ago. A copy of the opinion is to be sent to L. Clayton Grant, Esq., counsel for Mr. Cameron.

A request from the Atlantic Coast Line for permission to close North Third street at the entrance to the shops of the railroad was referred to City Attorney Ruark. The railroad claims that the extension of the street by its shop is on its property while the position of the city is that it is a street.

All members of Council were present yesterday except Councilman Bradshaw. Mayor Moore presided and Captain Meares, city clerk and treasurer, kept a record of the proceedings.

BRUNSWICK COMMISSIONERS

Here to Attend Joint Meeting With New Hanover Commissioners on Ferry Matter.

The Brunswick Board of County Commissioners will be in the city today, for the purpose of conferring in a joint meeting at noon with the New Hanover County Commissioners regarding the matter of establishing a free ferry across the Cape Fear river at the foot of Market street, and building a causeway between the Cape Fear and Brunswick rivers.

This will probably be the first real step toward connecting the two counties. The question has been discussed and re-discussed for a long time. Meetings have been held in the Chamber of Commerce and other places. A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce asked the New Hanover County Commissioners in session to call an election for the purpose of voting bonds to build a bridge across the Cape Fear. It seemed that public sentiment was opposed to such a large expenditure at this time and a free ferry was decided upon as a solution. The New Hanover County Commissioners sent an invitation to the Commissioners of Brunswick for a joint discussion on the matter of establishing a free or practically free ferry across the Cape Fear and building a causeway between the Cape Fear and Brunswick rivers. The gentlemen from Brunswick seemed to be interested. They are here today for the discussion and it is probable that steps will be taken to make it possible for the people of Brunswick to come to Wilmington to do their shopping.

It is not the intention to make it exactly a free ferry as originally proposed, but to have only a nominal charge, something like five, ten or perhaps 15 cents, depending on the class of the vehicle. This would be convenient for the people from that county, and would be a vast saving to them, in the matter of hauling, would bring trade to Wilmington and would probably develop the western side of the river here and give Wilmington an opportunity to expand.

Landed Big Turtle at Pier.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Barefoot, of this city, had fine luck yesterday in angling for blue fish at the Seashore pier at Wrightsville Beach, having hooked 80 of the finny tribe, and in addition landed a turtle weighing over 100 pounds. Mrs. Barefoot, who is an expert angler, hooked the turtle and Mr. Barefoot brought it to shore. The northeast wind yesterday made the fishing good and a number of large drum were caught while others made large catches of blue fish.

She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give

PRICE OF COTTON DECLINES

Market Extremely Nervous and Unsettled Part of the Day—Loss 5 to 12 Points—Spot 12.45.

New York, Oct. 6.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled today, but a break of about $2.85 per bale from yesterday's high records was followed by a very sharp rally in the late trading with January selling up from 12.62 to 12.90. The close was steady at a net loss of from 5 to 12 points for the day.

The market ruled barely steady at a decline of 10 to 13 points in response to lower cables and the failure of the weather map to show the expected frosts in the belt. A quick rally on active commission house buying carried the active months 3 to 6 net higher with December selling at 12.85; January at 13.01, and March at 13.30.

Offerings probably were curtailed by expectations that the weekly weather report would make a very bullish showing, but prices gradually worked off and after the publication of the weekly statement, which was less bullish than expected, the market became weak and unsettled. A sharp break in some war stocks seemed to be accompanied by increased Wall Street realizing or liquidation and there was talk of increased Southern hedging. December, January and March fell from 33 to 37 points below last night's closing figures, but at these prices, there was a renewal of aggressive bull support and rallies of some 28 to 29 points followed during the last few minutes. Private predictions of lower temperatures with frosts in the Southwest, probably helped the late rally.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Market Tended to React and the Close Was at a Net Loss.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—Cotton displayed a reactionary tendency today, standing below the level of yesterday's close most of the time. At the lowest the most active months were at a net loss of 34 to 35 points.

The close was 10 to 13 down net. The market opened at the decline in sympathy with lower Liverpool quotations than due. There was a quick recovery following, prices going 5 to 6 points over yesterday's close. Little strength was shown after this, the market being under continual selling power from the long side. Lowest prices were made in the early afternoon.

Liquidation of long contracts was hastened by the weekly weather and crop reports being more favorable than expected while the daily reports failed to mention frost in line with yesterday's predictions. According to some brokers, considerable selling was based on weakness in certain securities on the stock market.

Chicago, October 6. — Big buying orders, largely from Wall Street houses, forced an unusually sharp advance today in the wheat market here. The consequence was an excited close. At virtually the top prices reached, 6½ to 7⅝ net higher, with December at 106, and May at 1.07⅞.

STOCK QUOTATIONS CRUMBLE

Caused Chiefly by Effort of Exchange to Stop Reckless Trading in War Shares—Sales 1,560,000 Shares.

New York, Oct. 6.—Several important factors contributed substantially to the crumbling of quoted values today. Chief among these was the policy of conservatism adopted by the stock exchange against further reckless trading in war shares.

Liquidation of the war shares attained proportions fully as large as the buying which attended the recent rise. By their irregular opening quotations, stocks gave promise of what was to follow. During the market attempts were made to bolster the list by infusing strength into railway hsares, but these efforts proved abortive, because of the ease with which specialties yielded under persistent pressure.

Weakness was most pronounced at midday and in the final hour. According to board room gossip, many margined accounts which recently represented handsome "paper profits" were sold out. It is significant of the speculative situation as a whole that much of today's liquidation came from commission of "wire" houses. Rallies of from 1 to 5 points were recorded just before the close, bu the market's undertone continued feverishly weak. Total sales of 1,560,000 shares compared with the most active sessions of the previous wetk, when prices were on an ascending scale.

Among the extreme losses of the session were Crucible Steel 16 1-4, Baldwin Locomotive 12, General Motors 10, Westinghouse 7, American Car 6, Pressed Steel car 7, New York Air Brake 6 1-2, Colorado Fuel 6 to 50 1-2 and Continental Can 5 1-2.

Bethlehem Steel rose to the new high record of 401, and closed at that figure, a net gain of 15 3-4 points. The preferred stock lost nine points.

Bonds followed the course of stocks, but copper convertible issues were again strong. Total sales (par value) aggregated $4,424,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

PRICES ON SUGAR LOWER

Competition of New Home Grown Beet Crop Makes a Saving for the Consumers.

(From "Facts About Sugar")

Sugar is cheaper now than at any time during the past six months. The decline in the prices quoted by the seaboard refiners of imported sugar which takes place every fall when sugar grown from American soil comes upon the market began earlier than usual this year. The campaign of the California beet sugar factories opened several weeks before the customary date and California sugar was offered for sale in Atlantic coast cities and intermediate points during the latter half of August. Crop reports indicating the beet sugar output of the country would be the largest on record and might run to 800,000 tons or more, are regarded in the trade as a factor in leading the importing refiners to hold down prices in anticipation of more severe competition from the domestic product than they ever before have had to face.

During the present season it is expected that 66 beet sugar factories will be in operation in the United States. The first of these factories to begin the annual campaign was that at Visalia, Cal., which began slicing beets on July 3. Six other California factories started work during July and three opened early in August. Factories further east will begin operations during September or by the first of October. In addition to the active competition of these factories among themselves and against the product of the Eastern refineries, the California and Hawaiian refinery at Crockett, Cal., which handles exclusively American grown sugar from Hawaii, has extended its facilities during the past year, and has become an active competitor in the western market, shipping its production as far east as Chicago. In order to secure an entrance to eastern markets, western beet sugar not only has absorbed freight rates, but has been sold at 20 to 30 points below the imported sugar of the refiners.

In reporting the sale of 100,000 bags of California beet sugar in Philadelphia on August 27, the Public Ledger of that city said:

"This beet sugar consignment was immediately offered to the trade at $5.30 a hundred pounds, in competition with cane sugar at $5.60, with the result, it was said, that virtually the entire amount was contracted for. With added consignments on the way, confidence that still lower prices will shortly prevail is expressed on every hand."

Offerings of several hundred thousand bags of beet sugar were reported from Chicago at the end of August at 5.25 cents at a time when the imported sugar of the New York refiners was quoted 35 points higher in that market.

It is a familiar fact in sugar trade circles that the price of sugar declines whenever the output of the beet sugar factories come upon the market. In years when the export supply of important European and tropical sugar-growing countries is below normal for any reason, the influence of the domestic crop in reducing prices is greatest, and in those years the existence of a million and a half to two million tons of American-grown sugar saves many millions of dollars to consumers in the United States.

The great value of the domestic sugar industry to consumers never was more strikingly shown than in 1914. Following the outbreak of the European war, Great Britain, shut off from its customary sources of sugar supply in Germany and Austria-Hungary, made purchases of nearly half a million tons of sugar from other countries, buying a considerable part of it in Cuba and in the New York market. The result of this unexpected drain was a sudden advance of three cents a pound, and the refiners marked up their quotations to 7.5 cents a pound within two weeks of the outbreak of the war. Early in September California beet sugar began to be offered in Chicago and other Middle Western cities at a full cent a pound or more below the refiners' New York price, and under the influence of this competition wholesale prices quickly declined to six cents and during the latter part of the year to five cents a pound.

WAR STOCKS TAKE TUMBLE DOWNWARD

Methods Adopted by Exchange Have Drastic Effect.

FALL IS FAR AND FAST

More Than Million and Half Shares Change Hands at Decline of Five to Fifteen Points—Commission Houses Figured.

New York, Oct. 6.—Methods adopted by members of the New York Exchange yesterday to curb speculation had drastic effect today. In an active market, where the selling all but reached the high flood of recent buying, war specialties tumbled far and fast. When the closing gong sounded, more than a million and a half shares had changed hands and the speculative leaders were down five to fifteen points.

Although various factors entered into the selling, the note of warning by the stock exchange authorities was mainly responsible for the day's declines. Many houses handling numerous speculative accounts out of town were busy last night sending telegrams to their customers notifying them that more margin would be required.

What are commonly known as commission houses—firms with wires to interior points—figured extensively in today's selling.

Crucible Steel Led.

Crucible Steel led in the losses of the day, its low and high prices being 16 1-4 points apart. A short time ago it was selling as high as 108 7-8, today it went to 79 1-2. Baldwin Locomotive, down 12 points to 102, showed a total loss of 38 points from its recent high quotation. General Motors was off ten points at 340. Westinghouse, off 7 points today at 125, was down 14 points from yesterday's high. American Car and Foundry lost six points more, going to 76 1-2, a total loss of 21 1-2 points within three days.

Colorado Fuel and Iron, which recently went up to 66 1-2, sold down to 60 1-2 today. Lackawanna steel at 77 3-4 was 17 points under its recent maximum. Of all the leaders of the so-called war stocks Bethlehem Steel alone held its ground. It actually gained 10 3-4 points, and touched a new high record at 401. But this was on dealings in which only 2,000 shares were involved.

Some General Favorites Lost.

Some of the general favorites in normal times lost in sympathy with the great bear drive on war stocks. United States Steel, on dealings involving 235,000 shares, showed a range of more than 2 points between high and low and closed with a net loss of 1-2. There were in some cases, however, actual net gains, notably in New Haven, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Inspiration Copper.

Just before the close the market rallied, but the undertone continued feverish.

Taking today's minimum quotations as a basis of reckoning, some of the war stocks recorded losses of almost fifty points from maximums of the past month or two.

NORTH CAROLINA U.D.C. GATHER IN CHARLOTTE

Opening Day Marked by Largest Attendance in 19 Years

Tablet Unveiled Commemorating Meeting of Confederate Cabinet in Charlotte—Many Prominent Visitors—Mrs. Thrash.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 6.—The largest attendance in its 19 years' history marked the opening today of the State convention of the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, who are holding their sessions in the magnificent new Masonic Temple. Seventy delegates answered the roll call of chapters this morning out of 85 chapters in the State, not to mention many children's chapters.

The session this morning was taken up with reports from State officers, including the reports of the president, the credential committee, the corresponding secretary, and the treasurer. This afternoon reports were received from State chairmen.

At 4:40 o'clock this afternoon the convention adjourned to unveil a bronze tablet on the front of what is now the Charlotte Observer building as a marker to commemorate the meeting of the Confederate cabinet as President Davis and party were hurrying South in '65. The inscription on the marker reads:

"The last Meetings of the Confederate Cabinet were held in this building and the surrender of General Joseph E. Johnston was authorized from here on April 24, 1865.

"Erected by Stonewall Jackson Chapter, United Daughters of Confederacy, October 6, 1915."

Distinguished Visitors.

Among the distinguished visitors here for the convention is Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, who is a delegate from Johnston Pettigrew Chapter, U. D. C. of Raleigh. The convention recognized Mrs. Daniels by rising. She has been the recipient of many courtesies since her arrival.

Other distinguished visitors are Mrs. W. Myers Hazzard, of Charleston, daughter of George A. Trenholm, treasurer in the Confederate cabinet; Mrs. General W. P. Roberts, of Gatesville, widow of the youngest general in the Confederate army; Mrs. Fred Woodard, widow of the late Congressman, of Wilson; Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, vice regent of the North Carolina room in the Confederate Museum at Richmond. There are present five ex-presidents of the North Carolina division.

Much interest has centered in the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Fred Thrash, of Tarboro, who has been secretary of the North Carolina division for six years and who is recognized as one of the most capable and business-like women as well as one of the most tactful and diplomatic, declined re-election, although she was urged to allow her name to be put before the convention.

—Charged with trespassing, Henry Barnhill, colored, was arrested last night by Policeman Huggins and locked up at the police station. The negro had been working on the boat Emily B, but had been discharged, it is stated, and went back last night to sleep on the vessel.

BRITISH PROTEST TO TURKEY IS UNLIKELY

Not Officially Informed of Armenian Massacres.

Marquis of Crewe Replies to Question in House of Lords—Viscount Bryce Informed 800,000 Armenians Destroyed Since May.

London, October 6. — Replying to a question by Lord Cromer, in the House of Lords today, the Marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council, said that information which had reached the government in regard to the massacre of Armenians was based mainly on statements from Tiflis. In one district, it was declared, the population had been absolutely exterminated and the most terrible description was given of the condition of the country.

The government, he continued, had no official confirmation of statements that German consular representatives in Asia had encouraged these horrors, but the statements had been made by an observer from the United States and he was bound to say that, knowing what had happened elsewhere, there could not be antecedent improbabilities that such was the case.

The government had not thought, said the Marquis of Crewe, that any advantage would follow from an attempt to make either direct or indirect representations to the Turkish government on the subject.

Viscount Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, said that such information as had reached him from many quarters showed that the figure of 800,000 Armenians destroyed since May was quite a possible number. Virtually, the whole nation had been wiped out, he declared, and he did not suppose that there was any case in history of a crime "so hideous and on so large a scale."

The means for saving the unfortunate remnants of the Armenian people, added Viscount Bryce, was to be found, he believed, in the expression of the opinion of the world, especially of neutral countries, which might possibly exert some influence on the German government, and induce it to take steps to prevent further massacres.

freedom, but it is also the spirit of a nation that is self-conscious, that knows and loves its mission in the world, and that knows that it must command the respect of the world.

"So it seems to me that we are not working as those who would change anything of America, but only as those who would safeguard everything in America. I know that you will enter into conference with the officers of the navy in that spirit and with that feeling and it makes me proud, gentlemen, that the busy men of America, the men who stand at the front of their professions should be willing in this way to associate themselves voluntarily with the government in the task in which it needs all sorts of expert and serious advice. Nothing ought to be done in this by any single group of persons—everything ought to be done by all of us united together—and I welcome this association in the most serious and grateful spirit."

Daniels Pays Tribute.

When the board met Secretary Daniels called attention to the development of ordnance and instruments of destruction during the present war in Europe. He paid tribute to the willingness with which Mr. Edison and the other members had offered their services to make the country safe from attack.

"We may not," the Secretary continued, "expect to build the biggest navy in the world, but with the help of this board, we must have a navy every unit of which shall be as nearly perfect as American ingenuity makes possible."

Mr. Daniels said laboratories and places of research now used by the navy were far too small for present needs and that he hoped to secure the advice and recommendations of the experts as to the kind of a national laboratory needed. In conclusion he said:

"In this new day of invention and of miracles of science, I have faith that you gentlemen will be the leaders."

Before her marriage Mrs. Galt was Miss Edith Bolling, of Wytheville, Va. She has lived in Washington since 1896 and is the widow of Norman Galt, a well known business man of this city. She is the daughter of William H. Bolling, of Wytheville, for years a prominent figure in Virginia affairs.

While no definite date is set for the marriage, it is understood that the great event will take place at the White House within the next sixty days.

POSTMASTER CHARGED WITH ROBBING A BANK

Hubert Knight, of Middlesex, Held For Superior Court

Purchase of An Automobile for Cash Leads to Arrest at Wilson on a Charge of Stealing $1,100 From Bank Vault.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 6.—Hubert Knight, postmaster at Middlesex, a young man of high standing and good family, is under bond, following preliminary hearing tonight, charged with stealing $1,100 from the vault of the Middlesex Banking Company, at Middlesex. Knight was arrested here last night, when he was about to pay for an automobile which he had purchased several weeks ago. He had $845 in cash with him and is said to have acknowledged taking $800 from the bank, but denies the larger amount.

According to the story told by W. T. Valentine, cashier of the bank, Mr. Knight had been given the privilege of keeping the postage stamps and other supplies of the postoffice in the bank vault. Saturday night, September 11, Knight went to the bank while Valentine was working there and went into the vault. Monday morning when the cash was taken from the vault three packages of bills were missing, two packages containing $500 each and one of $100. Mr. Valentine immediately suspected Knight, notwithstanding the fact that the two men were intimate friends, Knight was closely watched. It was learned that he had ordered an automobile from a Wilson concern, and in addition had paid some debts.

Tuesday the automobile concern telephoned Mr. Knight to come after his car, and the bank people were also advised. The evening train brought Knight and a telephone message to Chief of Police Wiggs authorized the arrest and Knight was found at the garage as he closed the deal for the car.

He had paid $50 in cash when the car was ordered and $845 in bills were taken from him when arrested.

Hubert Knight is the son of C. W. Knight, one of the leading citizens of Nash county, and has always borne a good name, a young man of correct habits and energetic. He was appointed postmaster a year ago. He was bound over to the Superior court for trial.

ENORMOUS INCREASES IN THE COTTON EXPORTS FOR AUGUST

Number of Bales Shipped is 162,059 Compared with 21,210 Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Enormous increases in the cotton export trade during August are shown in the monthly statement of foodstuffs, cotton and oils exports made public today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Cotton exports for the month were 162,059 bales, valued at $7,625,631, as compared with exports of 21,210 bales, valued at $1,306,117 in August, 1914.

For the eight months ended with August shipments were 6,044,940 bales as against 3,734,444 in the same period last year.

Exports of foodstuffs, cotton and oils for August totaled $70,220,463, compared with $47,667,366 last year. Breadstuffs was the only classification showing a decrease, the exports being $29,396,900 as against $29,539,131 in August, 1914.

PRESIDENT WILL VOTE FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

In New Jersey Constitutional Amendment Election.

Believes Question Should Not Be Made Party Issue and Should Be Decided by the States, Not the National Government.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson will vote for the woman suffrage state constitutional amendment in New Jersey, his home state, at the special election October 19. He said today he would vote not as the leader of the Democratic party but as a private citizen. Mr. Wilson said he believed the question should not be made a party issue and should be decided by the states, not the National government.

The following statement was given out at the White House:

"I intend to vote for woman suffrage in New Jersey because I believe that the time has come to extend that privilege and responsibility to the women of the state; but I shall vote, not as the leader of my party in the nation, but only upon my private conviction as a citizen of New Jersey, called upon by the legislature of the state to express his conviction at the polls. I think that New Jersey will be greatly benefited by the change.

"My position with regard to the way in which this great question should be handled is well known. I believe that it should be settled by the states and not by the national government, and that in no circumstances should it be made a party question; and my view has grown stronger at every turn of the agitation."

Secretaries Garrison, McAdoo, Redfield and Wilson, who will vote on the question in the near future, have declared in favor of equal suffrage.

President Wilson tonight received many telegrams from suffragists in different parts of the country congratulating him on his announcement. One came from Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association.

DR. SHAW GRATIFIED.

Believes Nothing Can Now Hinder Carrying New Jersey for Amendment.

New York, Oct. 6.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association, in a statement issued here today expressed her gratification at the news that President Wilson would vote for the suffrage amendment in New Jersey and predicted that "nothing can stop us from carrying New Jersey now."

EARLY RATIFICATION OF LOAN IS EXPECTED

By France Friday and by Great Britain Monday

"American Truth Society," Which Opposes the Loan, to Start Movement in Several Cities to Educate on Details.

New York, Oct. 6.—Parliamentary ratification of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French credit loan established here is expected, in the case of France, next Friday, and on the part of Great Britain next Monday, it was reported here tonight. The bonds probably will not be offered to the public prior to such ratification.

What portion of the $500,000,000 issue will be offered to the general public was not disclosed today, but there were indications that the amount would be large.

The American Truth Society, an organization of persons opposed to the loan, announced tonight that its depositors' committee of 100 had arranged to hold twenty mass meetings in this city, Jersey City, Hoboken and Newark, to educate the public in the details of the loan. The campaign, it was stated, would culminate in a parade through the streets of New York to Madison Square Garden where a general meeting of bank depositors would be held.

Nearly 10,000 bank depositors, the announcement says, representing $60,000,000 in banking reserves, have sent their protests against the loan to the society. A letter has been sent, the statement adds, to every Democratic congressman in New York city, "calling his attention to the fact that this misuse of the Federal Reserve bank is a national matter in which he should be interested, at the same time requesting him to issue a public statement on this phase of the matter."

In one instance, it was reported in Wall street today, a large savings bank having funds on deposit with National banks participating in the loan met a threat of withdrawals by a committee representing certain depositors with the statement that it would in that case be compelled to foreclose a number of mortgages on the properties of those hostile to the loan.

Euphrates river and in the Dardanelles and the Balkans have made necessary another appeal for the enlistment of men throughout Great Britain. The Earl of Derby, who is directing recruiting and who is receiving the assistance of the labor organizations in his work, has taken charge of a campaign, the object of which is to obtain at least thirty thousand men weekly. Should it fail it seems fairly certain that parliament will adopt a national service bill.

dent of the old Midvale Steel Company, and Alva C. Dinkey, the newly elected president of the old Midvale Steel Company. Mr. Corey becomes president of the holding company and Mr. Dinkey, vice president.

It was learned that the price paid for the Midvale plants was around $22,000,000. Mr. Corey declined to say what the cost of the other concerns had been, nor would he disclose from whom the option on the 300,000,000 tons of iron ore had been secured. It was stated in steel circles that the ore fields probably were located in the Lake Superior district and rivaled those of the United States Steel Corporation in view of tonnage.

The Remington Arms Company, it was announced, has contracted to manufacture 2,000,000 rifles for the British government. None of the concerns acquired, says the statement, have any debts other than current and "the aggregate working capital of this, the parent company and its subsidiaries, will be in excess of $15,000,000."

GOOD WEATHER FOR PICKING COTTON DURING THE WEEK

Prospects for Smallest Crop for Years, Says Crop Bulletin.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Generally favorable weather for cotton picking prevailed during the week which ended yesterday, the national weather and crop bulletin issued today, announced. It said:

"Over the central portion of the cotton belt heavy rains and high winds near the first of the week damaged some cotton and delayed picking, but elsewhere the weather was generally favorable for picking and ginning, which progressed rapidly. The crop has been largely gathered in Texas, and is making progress in most other districts, except in Oklahoma, where it is slow in ripening.

"On account of dry weather over the eastern portion of the belt during previous weeks the top growth made little progress and there is small hope for any additional crop from that source; while in Texas boll weevil have destroyed any prospect for a top crop in that state. As a result of generally unfavorable weather and other conditions the season draws to a close with prospects of one of the smallest crops in a number of years."

Nashville, Tenn., was selected for the next annual meeting of the Congress of Mothers April 4. A month before the meeting of the executive board will begin an organization campaign through the South. Mrs. W. E. Hutt, of Raleigh, N. C., was elected a vice president to fill a vacancy. She will have charge of finance and publicity.

WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION AS THE GOVERNOR OF PANAMA

Goethals Announces He will Remain in Zone for Indefinite Period.

Panama, October 6. — Major General George W. Goethals has withdrawn his resignation as governor of the Panama Canal Zone. This fact was announced by General Goethals tonight on his arrival on board the steamer Cristobal from New York, after a vacation spent in the United States. His action was taken, he said, in view of the recent slides in the Cailiard cut, which have closed traffic through the canal. General Goethals said he would remain in Panama indefinitely—until such time as the condition of the canal would permit of his departure. Further than to make this announcement and to say that he had cabled Secretary of War Garrison withdrawing his resignation, which was to become effective November 1, General Goethals had nothing to say concerning the canal.

He did not seem worried over the situation, but eager to enter upon the work of combatting the slide. He will make a personal study of the slides.
